DEDICATION

We, the graduating class of 1949, are sincerely proud of the privilege of dedicating this issue of THE COMPASS to Dr. Robert T. Bapst, Superintendent of the Buffalo Public Schools.

Although Dr. Bapst's relation to all the schools is that of Superintendent, his relation to Kensington High School has ever been an essentially intimate one. Kensington is the only high school that was built during his administration. It was he who supervised the plans of the building, who organized the school, and selected the faculty. The History of the School records him as the speaker at the dedicatory exercises and as a frequent assembly and commencement speaker during the past twelve years. How very appropriate, then, that we, the members of the Class of 1949, gladly acknowledge his kindly interest by presenting this dedication as a token of our profound esteem and admiration.

Throughout the period of our formal education and up to this moment of graduation—through kindergarten, the grades, and our own Kensington, most of us have been fortunate, indeed, to have enjoyed the benefits of his splendid leadership. While the taxpayers have generously provided the means, his has been the guiding spirit that has provided the opportunities, second to none, that have brought us successfully to this decisive moment in our lives.

In common with the thousands of boys and girls in this city, many long since grown to manhood and womanhood, who have felt the sure guidance of his leadership, we, the latest product of his wise direction, salute him today and wish for him a fullness of years stored with the choicest blessings of health, happiness, and contentment.

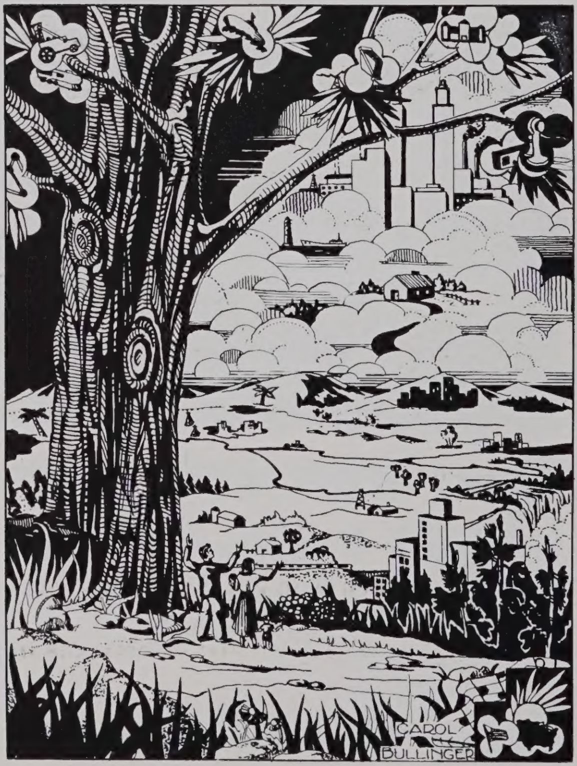
FOREWORD

Our 1949 yearbook presents Marvelous America in all its splendor stretching out before us. At the four points of the compass stands a tree which symbolizes the visions portrayed in the clouds of our illustrations. To the North stands the towering pine; to the South, the billowing palm; to the East, the sturdy oak; and to the West, the giant redwood. At the foot of the trees, an American family gazes up into the clouds finding there visions of all that makes America great . . . its resources, its opportunities, its beauty, and its power.



"A nation is made great, not by its fruitful acres, but by the men who cultivate them; not by its great forests, but by the men who use them; not by its mines, but by the men who build and run them. America was a great land when Columbus discovered it; Americans have made of it a great nation."

—LYMAN ABBOTT

A MESSAGE TO THE

The following speech was given by Lorraine Jakubowska to the eighth grade graduates who visited us on April 5. Because she has expressed so perfectly how each of us feels about Kensington, The Compass is proud to reprint Lorraine's speech as a message of welcome to the Freshmen who will enter high school in September 1949.

You have heard from previous speakers about the various courses of study offered to you here at Ken. You have heard about our fame on the football field, on the track, on the basketball court, and in the swimming pool. Not only have you heard of our success, and the spirit of Kensington from us but from people in all walks of life: housewives and mothers; business men and workers; teachers, policemen, and even the students of the other high schools.

"Kensington won again. Did you see how well the Kensington boys and girls conducted themselves in that crowd? The Ken crowd certainly is an enthusiastic cheering section. That was a magnificent pageant Kensington put on, wasn't it?—My money's on Ken to win—"

You may ask yourselves, "How do they do it?—What keeps them going?—" and I answer, not with many words or fancy phrases, but in one word, spirit. Spirit is the feeling you get when your team comes across the finish line first. Or when you stand at attention to sing the Alma Mater. It's the way you get all choked up inside when you just are not as good as the kid from Hutch or Seneca—and still your classmates cheer for you, the loser, just as loud as they did when you were a winner. Then you think, "With a crowd like that behind you, next time I've got to win." And you do win. That's spirit.

Perhaps you will become a member of this high school. You will be among the cheering throngs at All-High Stadium; or maybe you will be the one for whom they are cheering.

FRESHMEN OF 1949

Perhaps you like music. You will thrill to the strains of the Hallelujah Chorus at Christmas time. Maybe you can learn to become a king or shepherd (in one easy lesson) and you will be a part of that colorful pageant. Perhaps you like to beat the drum or blow the bugle. The Marching Band is waiting for you. Or maybe you're the quiet type who can sit and ponder for hours over a chess board. Under the capable guidance of Mr. Millard, the sponsor of our chess club, you might learn that certain maneuver that will help you win that next game with Dad. Girls, how would you like galloping through the bright autumn leaves with the wind brushing your face. It's a wonderful feeling! We offer you the opportunity to experience this pleasure in our riding club, The Equestri-Kens. Some of you, I'm sure, have a knack of telling a funny story, and getting a laugh; or have a rich, deep, bass voice that people say is pretty good; or maybe you're just bitten by the stage bug. You're welcome to display your talents to the public in our annual spring shows.

Yes, high school means a lot of hard work: study, research and homework, but it also means a lot of fun. Here you'll find the senior helping the freshman with that Math he just can't seem to understand. Here you'll find that certain bosom-buddy you've been looking for all these years. Oh, you'll see a lot of new faces, but remember, that in seeing them you'll be seeing a lot of new friends, too.

You'll become aware of spirit; spirit of equality and good fellowship; of cooperation and fair play; and you will become one of those who possess this spirit. In time you will discover all of these feelings spring from one source, our principal, Mr. Monan, who is the embodiment of these impulses, and in whom you will find not only a leader, but a real pal.

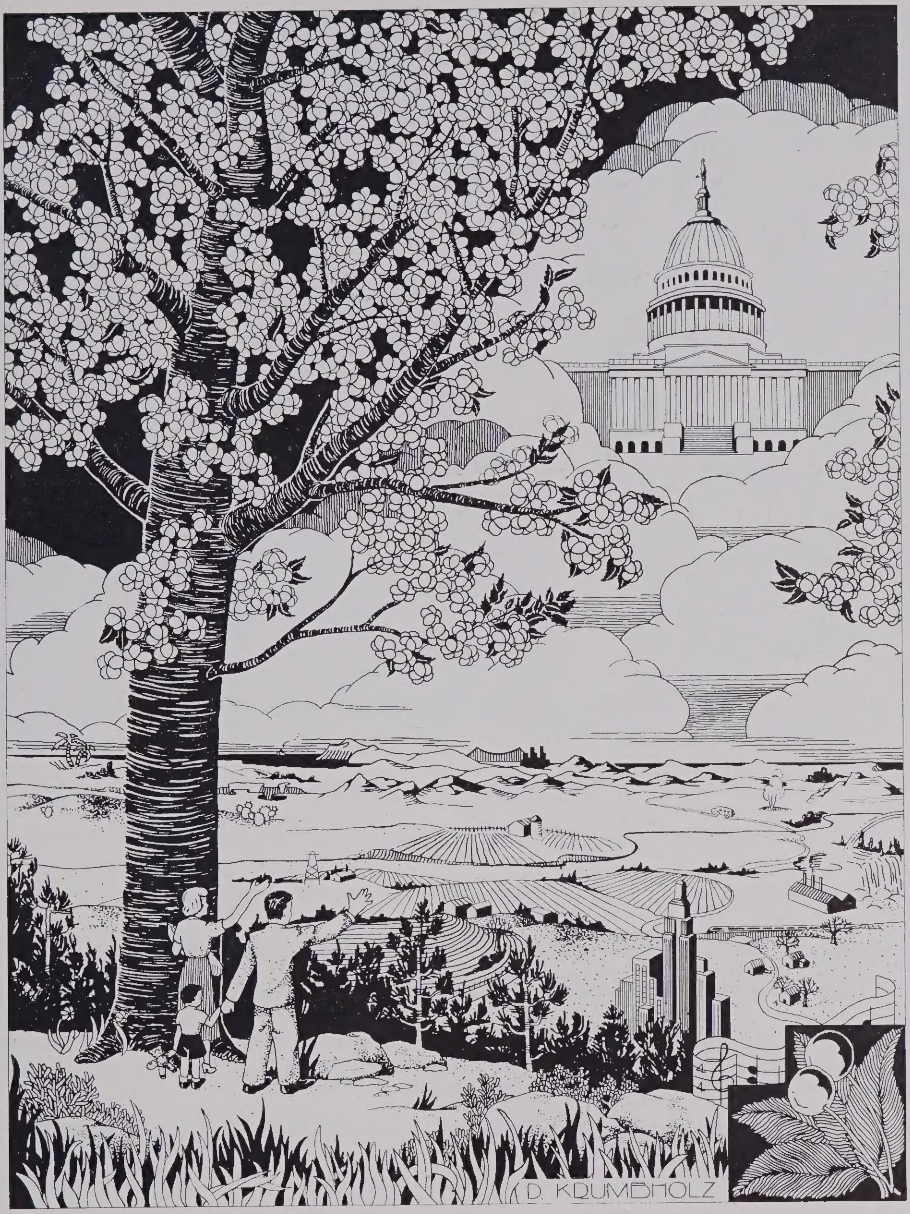
ADMINISTRATION

Thoughts of the cherry tree bring to mind Washington, D. C. where it blooms in all its glory. The capital city of this Marvelous America is the center of our administration where government of and by the people functions for the people. In this symbolic city, the leaders of our choice strive earnestly to guide our nation along the paths of progress and democracy.

So too, the heart of our life at Kensington is our own school administration—Mr. Monan inspiring in us high ideals of success and achievement, Mr. Chassin guiding us in our daily problems, and our teachers bringing to us a knowledge of our great heritage, of the opportunities that will be ours.

D. KRUMBHOLZ



ADMINISTRATION: The cherry tree has long symbolized Washington, the father of our country. Our family's vision is of our government and its institutions. We think of an America that is growing wiser as well as bigger and stronger. We know that it is the traditional idealism of America that makes it marvelous and distinctive. We realize that we have the greatest responsibilities and the greatest opportunities ever known to man.

CHARLES J. MONAN
Principal

To Mr. Charles J. Monan, our principal, we students extend our grateful thanks for all he has done to make our school life so happy, so interesting, so memorable. His unwavering confidence in our ability is the secret of Kensington's success. Because he believes so firmly that "we can do it"—we do!

He is the motivating force in all school activities, educational and recreational. Whether it be passing examinations or capturing trophies, he inspires us with the will to win. He has infused a unique spirit of loyalty and cooperation into a student body ever eager to follow his leadership.

His own boundless enthusiasm for the school, his pride in us and our successes have aroused an interest in Kensington which extends far beyond her portals. Because of his efforts, he has developed a school-minded community, he has helped us to achieve civic, even national, fame.

We know him, too, as a wise counselor. The door to his office is always open and he is ever willing to listen, sympathetically and understandingly, to our problems, great and small. Every Kensingtonian, from the newest Freshman to the Senior on the eve of graduation, thinks of Mr. Monan not only as a principal to be esteemed but also as a true and loyal friend who has won a lasting place in our hearts.

TO THE SENIORS

In greeting the Class of 1949, I do so with mixed feelings occasioned not only by your successful arrival at this happy estate but also by the sad realization that graduation marks your departure from the halls of your Alma Mater. Together with all the members of the faculty, I am proud of each and every member of this graduating class. So complete is my confidence in you, that I am sure that your enviable record at Kensington will prove but an assurance of your future record in the wider world of affairs that you are about to enter.

Marvelous America has been aptly chosen as the theme of your Year Book and Marvelous America will be the sacred arena of your future activities. Marvelous, indeed, is the heritage that is yours! Where in all the world will a group be found as fortunate as the sons and daughters of this wondrous land of freedom?

We are living in a day of self-analysis and so one might easily divide all mankind into two classes; one, so handicapped by a myopic vision that they can see only that which is awry and which no amount of good will overcome; the other, overwhelmed by the untold blessings this land affords, while sincerely recognizing imperfections where such exist, since in these shortcomings is proof, strive to remedy them, and in properly evaluating them, appreciate how vastly outweighed and outnumbered they are by the blessings that surround us.

Marvelous America will always be Marvelous America if you can keep your vision ever clear, your loyalty untarnished, and your judgment sound and unbiased. May your finest contribution to this, the glorious land of your birth, be an ever worthy citizenship and in that spirit I fondly bid you Godspeed.

Your Friend and Principal

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

JOHN N. CHASSIN
Assistant Principal

MR. JOHN N. CHASSIN

To John N. Chassin, our Assistant Principal, we students extend the warmest gratitude and deepest respect for all the fine work he is doing to help us along the rocky road of our high school careers. In spite of his demanding administrative responsibilities, he is always ready to offer friendly assistance to bewildered students, who constantly darken the threshold of his busy office in seemingly endless lines. In addition, he still finds time to take an active interest in athletic events. The patience and devotion which characterize Mr. Chassin make him a necessary part of our school life. He will always be one of our favorite people.

MARY C. KAMMERER
Administrative Assistant

ITALIA NATALE and PATRICIA BODKIN
Secretaries

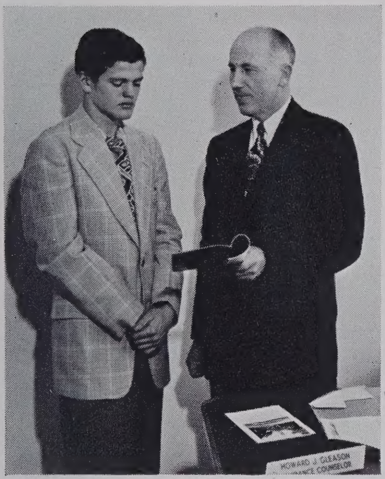
The office—typewriters clicking, phones ringing, conferences being called, the four walls resounding with constant activity. Coordinating all this is our genial Administrative Assistant, Miss Kammerer, whose never ceasing efforts and amazing energy make the office a focal point in the school's activity. Her school spirit is unequalled and her competence and charm have endeared her to the students.

Our two secretaries, Miss Natale and Miss Bodkin, also deserve praise for their efficient work. No matter how often we interrupt their busy routine, they greet us pleasantly and handle our problems capably. Their friendly interest and cheerful helpfulness have made them popular with everyone.

THE GUIDANCE PROGRAM

The Guidance Program has completed its second eventful year. During that time it has been constantly expanding and improving in order that more competent aid might be provided for the students. In the friendly atmosphere of the Guidance Office, students may consult the wealth of reference material, which offers invaluable information concerning various occupations and professions, the numerous colleges in the United States, and the scholarship aids available to the ambitious.

MILDRED T. KENNEDY and MARY LOUISE NICE
Girls' Counselors



Howard J. Gleason, Boys' Counselor, advises John Murphy about his course.

Miss Mildred Kennedy, Miss Mary Louise Nice, and Mr. Howard Gleason, our counselors, have devoted a major part of their time to interviewing students, assisting them in a wise choice of high school courses and directing them in a mature selection of colleges and careers. In accordance with the guidance program, Career Day was again observed. Several Acquaintance Days were planned at which representatives from various colleges introduced their respective programs and answered the questions of inquiring students. In April, an Elementary School Day was presented for the purpose of familiarizing the eighth grade graduates with both the educational and social opportunities offered at Kensington. Our counselors' good judgment and sound advice has aided many a bewildered student in solving his vocational problems.

GUIDANCE OFFICE MONITORS

Lois Daigler, Margaret Jaycox and Marion Alspaugh served as secretaries. Typing, filing, answering phones, greeting visitors were among their duties. Art Director Rosetta O'Brien was in charge of the attractive bulletin board.

SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

FACULTY NOTES

Kensington welcomed several new members to its faculty this year. Mrs. Swayze and Mr. Harrington joined the Commercial Department, Mrs. Willis assumed Miss Lane's duties as librarian and Mrs. Wagner came to teach Physics. In the fall, we cheered the first victory of our new coach, Mr. Duquin. When Mrs. Samul left, Miss Redinbaugh took her place as girls' gym teacher. In January, Miss Gunn was appointed to teach Economic Geography and Public Speaking. We were happy to have Mr. Gleason as Boys' Counselor and offer congratulations to Mr. Manch who has become Director of Guidance in the Buffalo schools.

Absent: R. Culliton.

LIBRARY: Many students, in their last attempt to gain a little knowledge before venturing out into Marvelous America, spend every free moment in the pleasant, comfortably furnished library, among the thousands of pages, subjects, and authors that line the walls. Mrs. Willis, our capable librarian, is always willing to lend a helping hand. Her sound advice and assistance have helped to solve many an intricate research problem. The library's attractive bulletin board displays are excellent guides to entertaining supplementary reading.

ENGLISH: "He who commands words commands events . . . commands men." It is to give us this power that the English teachers at Kensington try to instill in us a fluent and correct usage of English. Our Public Speaking classes make us more eloquent and help us to gain valuable poise. A world of knowledge is at our disposal in English Literature class where we learn of great novels and authors of renown. Thus schooled, the versatile Kensingtonian emerges to become an influence in Marvelous America.

LANGUAGES
Seated: R. Westerman, H. Tewksbury, H. Gleason, L. Dunlavey.
Standing: M. McCarthy, C. Valente.

FINE ARTS: No matter what project we carry out here at Kensington, be it a vigorous football game or a drive for more ardent study, art always plays an important role. All through the year, we admire and enjoy the colorful, highly attractive and very effective assembly decorations, posters, murals, and stage settings produced through the endless efforts of our artists. They develop skill and versatility as they study various art techniques.

LANGUAGES: Today, more than ever before, it is extremely desirable that we understand the languages of other countries who look to America for guidance. The knowledge of such languages as Spanish, French and German will enable us as future citizens to understand other nations and to aid them more wisely. Our capable teachers also instill in us an appreciation of the great classical languages, Latin and Greek.

ART
Ethel M. C. Davis and a group of her students discuss one of the endless art problems that arise during the year.

ART
Raymond Fisher discusses a problem in mechanical drawing with his pupils.

SOCIAL SCIENCE
Seated: W. White, N. Millard, I. Dickman, C. Lindstrom, G. McMahon.
Standing: T. McCarthy, J. Demerly, V. Walker, M. McKeon, C. Keefe, E. Stokoe, H. Goossen.

Standing: R. Jacobs, J. Meegan, M. Ruby, S. Kauffman, J. Reilly, B. Harrington.

SOCIAL SCIENCE: "History repeats itself" because the problems man must face are basically the same through the ages. By studying such subjects as American History and World Backgrounds, we acquire an understanding of the causes and results of those problems. This knowledge prepares us for the responsibilities which will be ours as citizens of this great country.

COMMERCIAL: The clicking of typewriters echoing through our corridors is tangible evidence of the ambition of our students. The ever increasing demands for well-trained office workers and competent secretaries is being capably met by our commercial teachers. Their diligent efforts result in the high efficiency of those graduates who represent Kensington in the business world.

SCIENCE

Seated: G. Heacock, H. Wagner.
Standing: A. Gianturco, L. Haynes, T. Mountain, L. Landsman, E. Davison, I. Eardman, A. Alaimo, H. Albing.

MATHEMATICS

Seated: V. Mayer, A. Connors, G. Druar, A. Creahan.
Standing: M. Misercola, M. Steudle, N. Hayes, M. Larrabee, I. Wall, M. McGee.

SCIENCE: While our science and biology teachers are elucidating the subjects of photosynthesis and the physiology of animals, the physics instructors are mystifying students with complicated theories of parallel force and diffusion of light rays. These lectures, with practical application in the laboratory, prepare us for careers as the future nurses, doctors, and chemists of Marvelous America.

MATHEMATICS: There are two sides to every question, but not in mathematics. Solutions to problems are either right or wrong. Those of us who depend on imagination for success in other subjects find ourselves grimly restricted by rigid axioms and theorems. However, we are quick to realize that mathematics does teach us to think clearly and reason logically.

Helen Nesper, Catherine Hyman, Naomi Stoesser, Elizabeth Meach.

Helen M Nesper

HOME ECONOMICS: To the clatter of scissors in one room and knives and forks in the other, we watch the progress of our industrious girls, the homemakers of tomorrow. With the help of their capable teachers, the girls are learning how to cook and serve a meal with ease. In sewing class, they learn not only how to make clothes but to wear them correctly, with poise and charm.

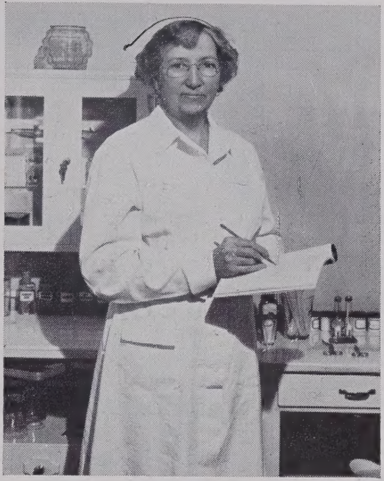
MUSIC
Marjorie Townsend, William Pinkow.

MUSIC: Whether it be an Irish melody or a Bach choral, Kensington students listen with enjoyment because Miss Townsend and Mr. Pinkow have made music an interesting, integral part of our school life. The appealing music provided by the Kensington band and orchestra adds zest to our assembly programs and the refrains of the A Cappella Choir lend solemnity and grace to revered occasions.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS
John J. McMahon instructs William Furlong.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS: "Little Factory," is indeed an appropriate name for our manual training shop. The buzzing saws and clanging hammers, wielded by our well-trained boys, transform mere wood into many useful articles. Under the capable guidance of Mr. John McMahon, Ken craftsmen are given preparatory instruction in a variety of skills so that they may take advantage of the numerous opportunities that America offers.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT



CLINIC
Ethel Armstrong, R.N.

CLINIC: Peppermint water, soft leather couch, wooly blanket, did you say? That's our "Cosy Corner Clinic." This is the most appreciated room in the school when a student is down-and-out and thinks he won't survive another minute. Miss Armstrong's crisp white uniform and soothing manner are as helpful as her remedies. After receiving her kindly ministrations, we go back to class feeling cheerful and well.

PHYSICAL AND HEALTH EDUCATION: Bars and bells, bats and balls, all have been used abundantly to build those biceps and bolster that sportsmanship in the Physical Education Department. Capable leadership and outstanding training have made this another successful year in athletics and the future seems even more promising. First aid, nutrition and hygiene are all part of our Health Education course which teaches us how to keep our bodies strong and healthy.

SWIMMING: Splash! They're off! Mr. Warren, stop watch in hand, times his aquatic prodigies who break record after record. Miss Felser's girls practice intricate ballets and striking solo numbers for their annual exhibition. Our successful swimming teams and colorful water carnivals are the result of the superior coaching our mermaids and mermen receive at Kensington.

SWIMMING

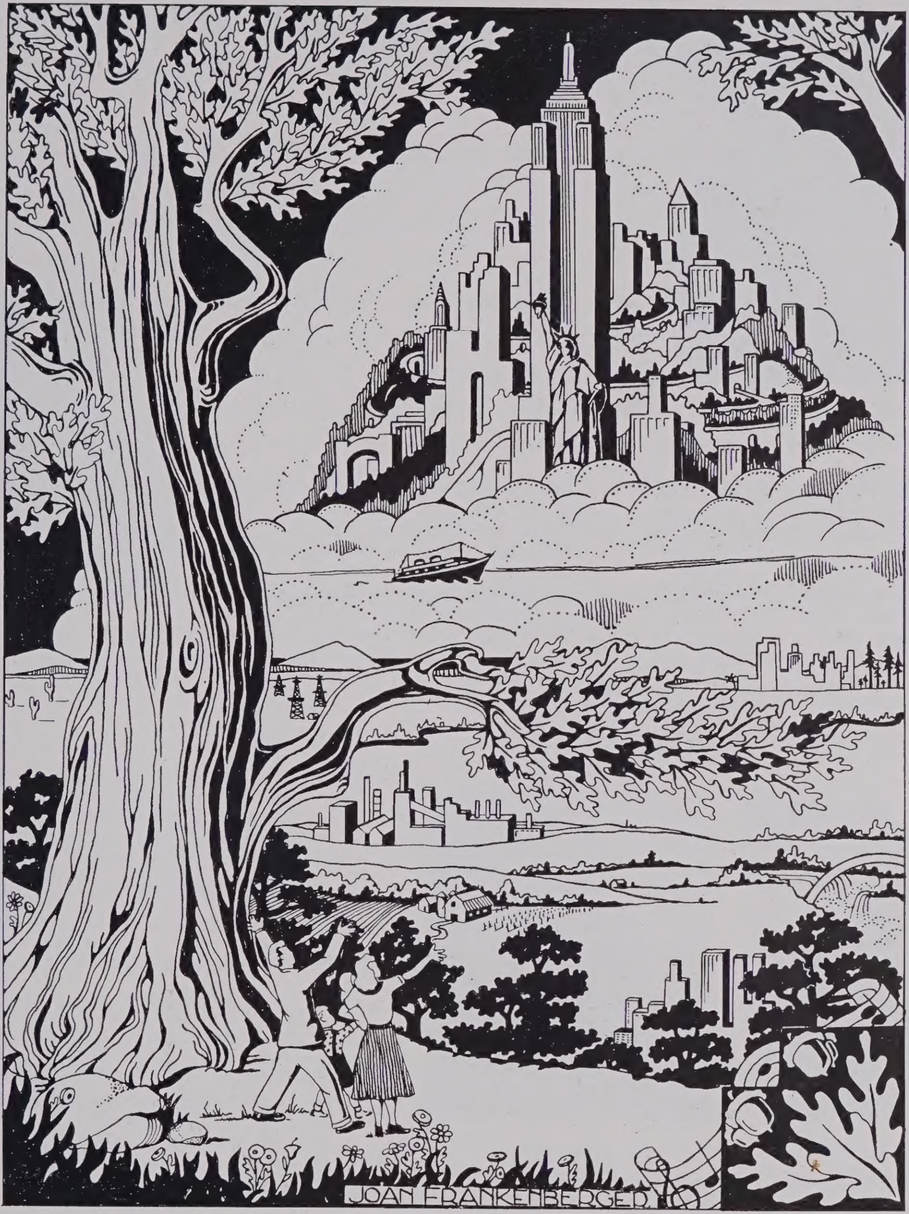
SENIORS

As the tiny acorn develops into the sturdy oak, we, the Seniors of today, will develop into the citizens and leaders of tomorrow. Now we realize the great burdens which rest upon our shoulders. Now we are ready to face a challenging world. The arms of this magnificent America are outstretched to greet us, arms of massive stone and steel, of rich, fragrant earth, and of wide, blue waters. Here we shall make our place. Here we shall prosper. But whatever the future may hold, we shall always remember the school which fostered our growth, the school which is itself a truly outstanding example of the greatness of our nation.



SENIORS: The sturdy oak, grown from a tiny acorn, suggests Seniors, America's hope for the future. Our family's vision is of steel construction, typically American, calling to mind, skyscrapers, bridges, railways, airways, and world commerce. The youth of our nation realizes the import of this vision—realizes that industry looks to them for improvement, the world for peace and security, America for the maintenance of its beauty and greatness.

SENIOR OFFICERS

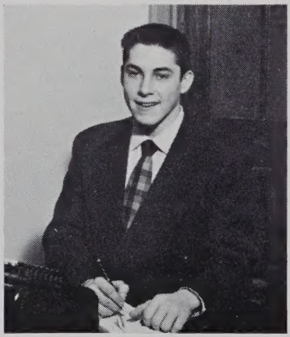
JOHN L. THOMPSON
President

Jack Thompson well deserves his popularity here at Kensington because of his likeable personality and his carefree ease of manner. One of Ken's All-High football stars and a dynamic basketball and baseball player, Jack is also very serious about his scholastic work. He alone has the distinction of having been elected both Junior and Senior class President.

Our smiling, unassuming Vice-President gets a 99 average and she doesn't do it with mirrors either. She confesses a liking for Greek or could it be the Greek teacher? We can often find our versatile Vice-President practicing her piano lesson or dribbling a ball down the basketball court. Donning our sun glasses, we see Carol favors fire engine red this season.

CAROL GALLISDORFER
Vice-President

RHEA CAMPBELL
Secretary



JACK KASMAN
Treasurer

Rhea Campbell, the Powers Model of Ken, has won many friends because of her sparkling personality and contagious smile. When not busy outlining history homework, Rhea can be found eating a bowl of chile con carne or playing short stop in a fast game of baseball. Rhea enjoys Miss Culliton's eighth hour English class or perhaps the humor of the boy who sits across from her.

As treasurer of the '49ers, Jack Kasman, the silver-tongued orator, has charmed from us our hard won silver. Jack, twice elected a class officer, has a host of friends because of his unassuming and winning personality. He acknowledges a weakness for solid geometry because it makes him feel "so scholarly." At second glance we see Jack favors square-toed shoes and polka-dot bow ties.

"Gus" Schultz, our poised and charming Girls' Marshal, is an extremely popular girl around Ken. Not only does she rate high in personality, but she is also an honor student. When she is not learning Latin vocabulary, "Gus" can probably be found practicing her violin. She confesses a weakness for blondes, particularly when they resemble Mr. Demerly.

Because of his genuine friendliness and his ready smile, Carl has always had a warm spot in the hearts of both students and faculty. He is worthy of our congratulations for his ability as Ken's hard-charging fullback and also as our most capable catcher on the baseball diamond. Carl takes pride in everything he does, and he does it well.

VALEDICTORY

Marvelous America! What a wonderful prospect is embodied in these two words! How fortunate are we, the young men and women of the class of 1949, to find ourselves, at the very threshold of life facing the future with the faith, the confidence and assurance that represent the perennial heritage of youth in this great land.

How marvelous, indeed, have been the opportunities that have brought us to this wonderful moment, when we may stand proudly, yet humbly, in the presence of our parents, our teachers, and our friends, conscious of what has been, and supremely hopeful of what may be.

Where but in America may those of our generation look back upon the happiness and contentment that have been ours for the past four years. Speaking specifically of our own beloved Kensington, how the days flash by in the kaleidoscope of memory—the remembrance of the thousand and one wonderful experiences synthesized by time into the pattern of life characteristic of a modern American high school.

In looking back, it is both fitting and proper that we pay a well-deserved tribute to those who have made this never-to-be-forgotten occasion a reality for us.

There are no words to express our gratitude fully and completely to our beloved parents, whose devotion and loving care have taught us the meaning of life itself. The pride and satisfaction which they may derive from any success which God may see fit to grant us in the future, may constitute some measure of thanks for their many sacrifices in our behalf.

To Mr. Chassin and to our teachers, whose patience and sympathetic understanding have made possible the fruition of a dream, and without whom no school could be anything more than an empty shell, we pay tribute by adding our voices to the great chorus of praise of all those who have gone before us.

Fondly we acknowledge a special debt of gratitude to our esteemed principal, Mr. Monan, whose spirit of contagious enthusiasm and zest for life, whose kindly interest in every one of us individually, will always be among our fondest memories. It was from him we learned the lesson that almost nothing is impossible; it was from him we gained insight into one of the fundamental American virtues—the will to win. Our tribute to Mr. Monan will be in retaining all our lives the spirit engendered by his leadership.

Some of us are planning to continue our education in an institution of higher learning; others among us plan immediately to enter the world of work. Whatever our course, we glory in the thought that the choice, under competent and sympathetic guidance, has been our own. This spirit of self-determination is truly the spirit of America.

Prepared as we have been, and confident as we are that opportunity will never fail to exist in this democracy of ours, we stand ready and eager to embark on the adventure of adult life in Marvelous America!

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE

Having achieved greatness, we, the Class of '49, with supreme generosity, offer our pattern for success to you, the aspiring student. That you, too, may gain acclaim, we ask you to stop and study this record of highest achievement.

Impossible as it may now seem, we were once but lowly Freshmen. Early in September of '45, we trudged expectantly to Miss Heacock's and Mr. Meegan's home rooms with awe in our faces and lumps in our throats. We boys had heard of Mr. Meegan! From the moment of our arrival until our departure the next spring, we learned among other things, the advantages of minding our own business.

A new routine was quickly established in which we were shocked to find that tardiness was rewarded by a one-half hour stay after school. There was a great potentiality in our class as can be proved by our later accomplishments.

Feminine crowds flocked to the gym for their Hallowe'en party. Joyce Baggs and Diana Lavetti furnished entertainment. The costumes were very original, but many of us wondered why some of the girls wore their false faces all year. In her sixth piece of cake, Kathleen Pritchard finally found the card which entitled her to an attractive ring with no boxtops needed.

Who was that boy running on to the field? Yes, there went a representative of our Freshman class. It was Pete Zanghi, the waterboy. He certainly looked striking in that football uniform.

We really enjoyed our first Christmas pageant. There was little Jack Kasman, a herald. We didn't realize then that on that stage was the unusually talented Bob Haidvogel who appeared as a herald all our remaining years at Ken.

A highlight of the second semester was the Gay Nineties Revue in which Beverly Solberg went "Strolling Through the Park One Day" with the dashing hero. Were those tandem bike riders trying to duplicate the flight of the Bumblebee or a dive bombing attack when they buzzed around our two by four stage? That might have been the reason why, each time the bike approached the footlights, Harry Mueller yelled, "Hit the deck, and cover that drum!"

In the spring "jumbo size" Howie Hock and "sample package" Jack McMinn, with their excellent tennis games, helped Ken High prove to its more sceptical opponents that we excelled, not just in football, but in all activities and sports.

Against remarkable odds, the odds being Carol Gallisdorfer, Catherine McIntosh vanquished her opponent, the hard way, by winning the Freshman Attainment Medal with an average of 99%.

Our exams successfully concluded, our lockers cleaned out, but not clean, our so-longs said, we joyfully left the portals of Ken High, for we were then but Freshmen who were only beginning to realize that it could be fun going to school.

When the lid was opened on our Sophomore year, the youthful energy that knew no bounds spurted like a locomotive, pushed by the speedy cross-country legs of Vince Mascia and Don Batz. We were no longer Freshmen and, with a higher style of comic books, we prepared to settle down to another great year of inadequate study habits.

The football season rolled along until we met that old Bennett Tiger! Nevertheless, Chris Frauenhofer and Chuck Weston learned some tricks to be used in future years.

This was a year of beginnings. Not only did we see John (Caesar) Barone and Lucille (Cicero) Rutkowski become consuls of the lately inaugurated Latin Club, but we also saw Maryann Eberhardt and Merle Orchard scoop up the news for the Ken Key Notes, the new student publication.

After thrilling to the lilting voice of Pearl Barger in the Thanksgiving Day Program, everyone proceeded to enjoy his well-earned holiday, except Catherine McIntosh, who was busy practicing for the finals of the Girls' Declamation Contest.

Before we knew it, December and holiday preparations were upon us. So we donned the mothy sheepskins and the annual pageant was on. Among others, our class was represented by Gordon Bradfield, Margery Grotzka, and Dorothea Panke.

On returning from our Christmas breather, we saw our basketball team take the court with Jack Thompson and John Corbelli doing their bit. They had that old Kensington fight; but, when the season ended, our score was a few baskets short.

The year wouldn't have been complete without the Kensington aqua-queens paddling around in the Water Carnival. It must have been beautiful; but don't ask the boys, for they never even felt the spray. From what they heard, though, Betty Hennig and Barbara Wilde looked just like two of the cutest little fish you ever saw.

The splashing extravaganza concluded, we turned our attentions to music and the Spring Concert took the spotlight. Harry (James) Mueller played like a master of the symphony and we all delighted in hearing the newly formed mixed A Cappella chorus perform.

As the year drew to a triumphant close, Howie Hock and Jack McMinn entered the tennis racket and Martin Schultz and Joyce Ehat jumped across the chess board to defeat most of their worthy opponents.

June seemed so far away in September, but on May thirty-first it's the next day. We batted our brains all over the exam sheets, as Carol Gallisdorfer lightly skipped away with the Sophomore Attainment Medal. Nevertheless, we were certainly glad we had made the grade,

ALMA MATER SONG

Kensington thy sons and daughters hail thee.
To Green and Gold our hearts be ever true.
May honor ever guard thy open portals,
Thy wisdom's torch shine on and light our way.
Let voices raise to sing thy praise.
Oh, Alma Mater always dear,
With courage strong to thee
We pledge allegiance,
And onward strive for Kensington.

CAREER DAY

Senior Officers Augusta Schultz, Carl Wyles, and Jack Kasman seek advice from Mr. Robert F. Sommer and Miss Ada James.

Honorable John D. Hillery discusses careers with Carol Gallisdorfer.

On April 7, Career Day was again observed at Kensington. Working with Mr. Monan, Mr. Gleason served as chairman, assisted by the Girls' Counselors, Miss Kennedy and Miss Nice. Through their efforts, a very successful program of speeches and interviews was planned to assist the Seniors in choosing their future profession.

Five guest speakers thoroughly discussed teaching, salesmanship, business, medicine, and law as careers ranking high in our Marvelous America. Miss Ada E. James, Principal of School 53, spoke about the possibilities of teaching as a worthwhile profession. Mr. Robert F. Sommer, Associate of the National Sales Executives, Inc. outlined the advantages of salesmanship in this progressive era. With the relentless business cycle as an example, Mrs. Jean Caster, President of the Jean Summers' Business Schools, pointed out the demand for more well-trained business workers. Dr. Lawlor F. Quinlan, Chief of Obstetrics at Genesee Memorial and St. Jerome Hospitals, Batavia, and the Honorable John D. Hillery, Chief Judge of the City Court, described the advantages and opportunities offered by medicine and law.

The Seniors deeply appreciated the generosity of these guest speakers who gave so freely of their valuable time. Their wise counsel was a source of inspiration to the graduates who look to the leaders of today for help in becoming the leaders of tomorrow.

Mrs. Jean Caster, Dr. Lawlor F. Quinlan, Mr. C. J. Monan, Honorable John D. Hillery, Miss Ada E. James, Mr. Robert F. Sommer.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of '49
Have made our years at this school shine.

Our teachers won't agree with this
But we know we've brought them happiness.

Four years that seemed like four short days
Have left us in a foggy haze.

We've had our share of troubles and woe
And now we know it's time to go.

These are the things we tell to you
Listen now and take your cue.

First and foremost we leave:

Funds with which to insert Charles' new law "Let's go, we can do it" in all physics books.

Gordon Bradfield and his accordion for the special treat at next year's victory assemblies.

Our unquestionably truthful excuses to Mr. Chassin to baffle him during his early morning sessions.

If all these forementioned conditions are followed to the letter we reluctantly relinquish, since "Now Is the Hour:"

Roy Koch's trumpet and Bob Shanley's drums to the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra for use in bebop symphonies.

Marge Grotzka's supersize bottle of aspirin to Lorraine Zmarzly and Joan Wojciak to ward off headaches when competing for editorial honors in 1950.

"Rocky" Nixon's much worn letter-sweater to John Bruno for distribution among the female population.

Lucille Rutkowski's Charleston-step chart to Patty Brown to show the "Betty Bebops" how it is done.

Chris Frauenhofer's huge collection of press clippings to Sparky Mazzuli for padding his football pants.

As we go out into "The Big Wide Wonderful World" we bequeath:

Dick Klose's drum major uniform to pokey Paul Preston.

Pat Pawlak's undue promptness and attentiveness to that jovial junior, Joannie Schau.

John Harding's persuasive arguments to George Wagner for use in convincing the Common Council to grant an appropriation for backstage dressing rooms.

Shirley Brown's mellow lilting voice to that new singing sensation Jenny Bianchi.

Bartlett's newly edited "Book of Familiar Quotations" to Ange Lattuca.

Pete Zanghi's perky spryness to that dandy, Sandy Militello.

Carol Gallisdorfer's mathematical skill to "never-say-die" Dick Reynolds.

Dick Keeney's flutter board to Mr. Warren to use for daily mile workouts.

Lambert Hughes' golf clubs to Mr. Meegan for a forceful revival of golfing at Kensington.

Willie Field's locker (No. 1355) for Open House next fall.

All of the Senior Simp Buttons to the original Simp, Carl Connor.

Kenneth Day's edition of "How to Play Chess" to Bruce Burr.

Skip Yaw's seasonal basketball pass to Joan Stock.

Vince Mascia's all-high track shoes to the speed-merchant Larry Brennan.

Shirley Werner's Cut Rate Price list in the boys' cafeteria to Miss Funk.

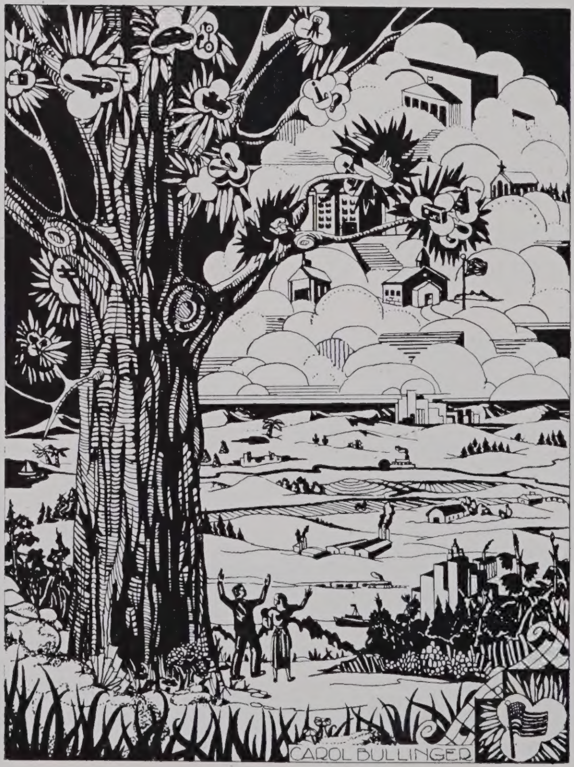
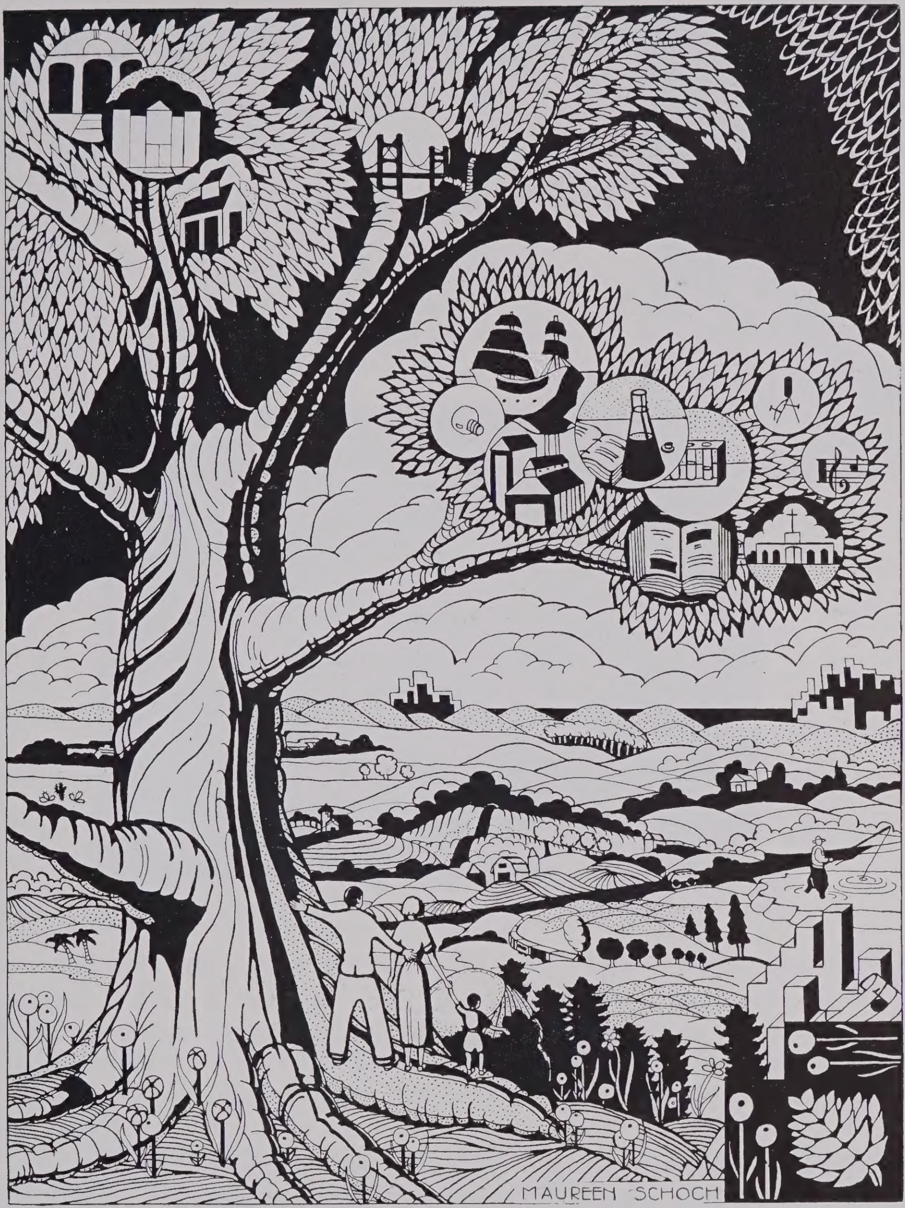
The tree of knowledge represents man's successful attempt to disclose the mysteries of science, art, and philosophy. As each American in every corner of this beautiful land perceives the "torch of knowledge" and is moved by the urge to know, his inquisitive spirit leads him to the discovery and appreciation of his country. Today we are filled with a sense of achievement because within the masses of our people are the workers and creators who are guaranteeing for us a better living for a better tomorrow. Hold high the torch of knowledge for it lights the way to a better understanding of Marvelous America.





CLASSES: The Tree of Knowledge with its fruit indicates the inventions, the sciences, the arts. Our family's vision is the "Torch", symbol of progress in thought. Through the schools of our nation, comes a widening of interest, an enrichment of knowledge, an insight that brings an understanding of the problems of our world. We learn that the more knowledge we bring to any subject, the greater the benefit to us.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Edward Ryan, Lorraine Jakubowska.

Seated: Jennie Bianchi, Robert Scamurra.
Standing: Robert Colucci, Victoria Rigo.

ROBERT SCAMURRA, President

Versatile Bob is admired by everyone, not only for his scholarship but also for his prowess as an athlete. Among his laurels are major letters in basketball and cross country. Physics a la Mr. Alaimo intrigues him, as does the sweet trumpet of Harry James.

VICTORIA RIGO, Secretary

A cheerful disposition, keen sense of humor, and friendly spirit have made our charming Secretary well-liked. Although Vicky is an honor student, she vows that lunch is her favorite period and her main ambition to finish three banana splits at one time.

EDWARD RYAN, Boys' Marshal

A variety of activities keeps our popular Boys' Marshal busy. Ed enjoys sketching with the Studio Club, is an expert tumbler, and participates in track and cross country. In his spare time, he takes pictures of school events and does English assignments for Miss Scanlon.

JENNIE BIANCHI, Vice-President

The vote for Jennie was unanimous. Well-known for her sparkling personality, ready smile, and beautiful voice, she is one of Ken's most popular students. She prefers semi-classical music and (although it doesn't show) admits that pie is her favorite food.

ROBERT COLUCCI, Treasurer

Our smiling treasurer is well-known for his sincerity and cooperativeness. Dramatics, track, homework, and eating chocolate cake consume most of his time. He likes to travel and listen to jazz. An honor student, Bob prefers his Latin class to geometry or history.

LORRAINE JAKUBOWSKA, Girls' Marshal

Lorraine, who won honorable mention in the Declamation Contest, is one of Ken's most versatile Juniors. She is talented in dramatics and singing, as well as public speaking. Now, our attractive Marshal has a new hobby—she is learning to play the French horn.

JUNIOR SCRAPBOOK

This year's activities in 262 were marked with both versatility and spirit. Among the many who participated were:

JUNIOR JILLS

Room 262: During the course of the year, several girls were honored in various ways. Eleanor Barbuto was the winner of a $20 certificate for selling football tickets and was also chosen as Secretary of the History Forum. President of the Y Teen Club was Grace Furbo; Vice-President of the Cartoon Club, Sylvia Buhles; and Art Editor of the Journalism Club, Rosa Lea Barone. The honor roll leaders included Gloria Botham, Audrey Golnick, Nancy Heuer, and Joan Schau. Chosen to take part in "Cherry Blossom" were Chickie Cawley, Nancy Heuer, Joan Schau, and Shirley Schroeder.

Listening to local chatter in 262, we collected the following statistics: Nicest Personality, Jennie Bianchi; Prettiest Hair, Joan Herrlich; Most Fun, Marilyn Ball; Tiniest, Jane Gerlach; Lightest eaters, Girls of 6th hour lunch.

Room 266: Active in the field of sports were Arlene Szafranski and Florence Wiechec, members of the Junior volleyball team. Kathleen Smithmeyer and Ann Steinkirchner had parts in the water carnival and studied life-saving.

Among the girls on the honor roll in 266 were Beverly Sharp, Rosemary Valentine, and Norma Willingdon.

Catherine Sirface, Elsbeth Thomann, and Nancy Thurnherr sang in the A Cappella Choir, while Geraldine Schultz and Frances Szymanski played in the Orchestra. Ruth Schweinberg and Joyce Wood were in the Irish Jig on St. Patrick's Day.

Joan Stock and Irma Trometer are renowned for their apple pies, but Constance Yeostros' Ice Cream is "famous for flavor." Irene Severino, Irma Trometer, and Joan Truesdell were models in the Home Economics fashion show.

STUDENTS WIN ESSAY CONTESTS

For the third consecutive year, a Kensington student has won top honors in the annual Americanism Essay contest sponsored by the American Legion and the Buffalo Evening News. This year's victor, John Harding, received as his award a trip to Washington, D. C., during the Easter vacation. Besides visiting the famous historical places in Washington, John and the other contest winners enjoyed a tour through the Annapolis Naval Academy. Kensington's other entrant, Carol Gallisdorfer, was awarded honorable mention for her essay on "Thomas Jefferson's Contribution to Americanism." The prize-winning essayists of the past two years were Lucille Lewandowski and Joanne Hanna.

In an essay contest sponsored by the American Society for Friendship with Switzerland, Joanne Cook, a senior, placed second, winning a beautiful Swiss watch. Joanne's essay which was entitled "Swiss Neutrality," required approximately twenty-five hours of research and twelve hours to complete the final prize-winning draft. Relatives of Swiss descent were an inspiration for the ideas developed in her theme. Kensington is proud of Joanne for bringing another essay award to her portals.

JUNIOR JAUNTS

Room 107: Although separated from the rest of their class, the eight Junior girls in this room were prominent in school affairs. One of them, Lorraine Jakubowska, was chosen as Junior Girls' Marshal. Doris Oliver was captain of the Junior volleyball team. One of the Bowling teams chose Esther Welzynski as their captain. The Honor Roll leaders of 107 included Marcia Duncan and Doris Oliver. Besides taking part in athletics, the girls in 107 also found time for educational activities. Lorraine Jakubowska broadened her stage talents in the Dramatic Club. The History Forum found some loyal supporters among the Junior girls from Room 107. Doris Oliver, Lorraine Jakubowska, and Louise Lynch sang in the traditional Christmas Pageant and the annual St. Patrick's Day Revue. Marcia Duncan was among the Irish colleens who danced in the jig. 107's Compass Reporter was Esther Welzynski.

Room 252 has participated a great deal this year in the extra-curricular activities offered at school. Connie Franzek and Audrey Oberst distinguished themselves in the Dramatic Club. Dolores Gregor and Helen Geddes displayed their artistic and imaginative talents as members of the Cartoon Club. The St. Patrick's Day Program featured Gloria Berney in the Irish jig and Wilma Hachten in the A Cappella Choir. During the year Marlene Roehmholdt, Norma Kalke, Pat Pender, and Doretta Maitland competed for top honor roll positions. As a member of the History Forum, Gerry Zoghibe steadily increased her knowledge of world events. Anna Helbig and Gloria Berney were library monitors. Besides being high on the honor roll Pat Pender found time to be in the biology club and also work for her athletic award. Caryl Laird obtained a position on the Debate Team as time keeper.

BACKWARD GLANCES

Room 239: Scholastically, as well as in the field of sports, the Juniors of 239 were outstanding. Margaret Chapman, one of the top honor students, also played in the orchestra and was in the Christmas Pageant. Lois Taylor, also an honor student, numbered among her activities the Dramatic Club, A Cappella Choir, Christmas Pageant, Volleyball, and Bowling.

Kathleen Mussehl, Rita Dormann, and Marcia Butler participated in the Water Show, Basketball, Volleyball, History Forum, and Christmas Pageant. Carolyn Larter was a member of the Dramatic Club and A Cappella Choir. She was in the Christmas Pageant and St. Patrick's Day program and also played Volleyball.

Those elected as Compass reporters were Kathleen Mussehl, Marcia Butler, and Mary Marranconi. The rest of the girls were members of one club or active in one sport.

Room 241: This year room 241 was prominent in various activities. In the field of sports we find those enthusiastic bowlers, Irene Kucinski, Catherine Trbovich and Caroline Shetler. On the Junior Girls' Volleyball team was Arlene Prell. And last but not least were our mermaids, Peggy McMahon, Edith Dahlke, and Marilyn Enser, who displayed aquatic abilities in the Water Carnival.

Active in Ken's clubs were Joan Fincel in the German Club and Judith Cerajewski in the Home Economics Club. In the History Forum were Shirley Webb, Joan Rook, Jean Meade, and Mary O'Connor.

Caroline Shetler was our capable manager who promoted the football ticket sales in our room. Dolores Kraemer was chosen to report on our home room for The Compass.

Many of our girls participated in the Christmas Pageant.

Freshman Studies Opera in Rome

JEANETTE LA BIANCA

Jeanette LaBianca, who entered Kensington as a freshman in September, left school in January to continue her musical education in Italy. Although she is only 14 years old, Jeanette has been acclaimed by music critics as a coloratura soprano with a future certain to take her to the heights in the operatic world.

Accompanied by her music teacher, Miss Lucia Carlino and her manager, Mr. Angelo Carlino, Jeanette has visited Cherbourg, Paris, Monte Carlo and Nice. Upon her arrival in Italy, she met for the first time her relatives in Bari. She toured Genoa, Venice, Florence, and Naples and is now making her permanent residence in Rome where she will continue her musical training and prepare for her debut, scheduled tentatively for December.

From her sister Marie, who is a Junior in Room 262, we learned that Jeanette has been studying voice and piano for the past four years. She knew the score of the opera "Rigoletto" when she was only 12 years old. Her repertoire includes many of the soprano arias from famous operas and she is now studying the role of Lucia in "Lucia di Lammermoor."

Jeanette has sung with the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of D'Artega and with the Civic Orchestra directed by Wolanek. We, her fellow students, wish Jeanette all the luck in the world and hope some day she will return a prominent figure in the operatic world.

HOME ROOM REPORTERS

Enthusiastic news-gatherers and tireless workers, these are our home room reporters. Again they have been busily employed in seeking information about the names and activities which most successfully represent their rooms. They have racked their weary minds to discover new and interesting ways to bring their classmates into the spotlight, and their unique ideas have again contributed much to our yearbook.

SOPHOMORE SIDELIGHTS

Room 203: Throughout the year, boys from 203 have been working hard for the glory of Kensington. Although no boy was out for the football team, each worked hard in the ticket sale with Gerald Barber, Pat Loughran, and Gerald Griffin sharing high honors as salesmen. Wallace Schmitt, Phil Cannon, and Edward Haynes were members of the Marching Band. On Mr. Duquin's track team were Pat Loughran and Jim Herrmann. Each took part in the indoor track meet.

Robert Winter, Edward Owczarzak and Richard Fricke were the leading scholars of the room. Eddie and Danny Winters belonged to the Dramatic Club. Dick Busselle, Phil Cannon, and Edward Haynes took part in the festivities of the St. Patrick's Day Program. Throughout the year, Mr. Hayes, our home room teacher, was a help and example to each boy and the boys are grateful for the help and advice he gave us.

Room 309: Although one of the smaller home rooms, 309 had many participants in school activities. Most prominent was Noel Eberz (the scintillating Sophomore) who won his major letter in swimming. Dick Ihrig and Roger Betz were also Knight Mermen. Lone member of the cross country team was Ted Brueckman. Ed Faber labored through three sports: football, basketball and baseball. Joe Hartrich, a potential baseball star, was also in the Christmas Pageant and St. Patrick's Day Revue.

Dave Ely captained a winning team in the Ken Bowling League. Dave also plans along with Jim Cieslewicz and Jim Schalk on playing baseball this year. Al Dorman, Dave Hangauer, and Tom Dombrowski were interested in track. Ed Faber and Don Chudzik were on the honor roll and several others made the merit roll. We attained all these honors under the capable guidance of Miss Kauffman.

SOPHOMORES—ROOM 362

NEWS AND VIEWS OF 362

For our hall of fame we nominate: our tip-top honor students: Irene Anastasi, president of the Home Economics Club; Rose Abbonando, who was also outstanding in sports; Arlene Haug and Judith Husner, who are experts in costuming, also Sandra Dykins and Shirley Finn, hard workers on the projection staff.

Our girls prominent in club activities: Mary Ondrejka and Dorothy Csont were active in the Biology Club, History Forum, and Dramatic Club; Rose Hoeger and Norma Honecker who were 362's circulation managers for the year book. Rose was also secretary of the Chess Club.

The most prominent in swimming, volleyball, basketball, and other sports were: Pat McMahon, Dolores Furbo, Doris LaRosa, Kay Kaufhold, Clara Fischer, Jackie Kraft, Carol Kuhn, Sandra Dykins, Joan Pepke, Joan Page, and Pat O'Rourke.

These girls participated on apparatus in the gymnasium demonstrations for the grammar school visitors: Geraldine Pazyck, Nancy Hill, Jeanette Hauser, Doris Boxall, Dolores Furbo, and Pat O'Rourke.

Doris LaRosa and Kay Kaufhold helped make our successful Christmas party more entertaining by their dialogue of "The Day after Christmas." Marguerite Parise tap danced and Alice Minor added to the enjoyment by twirling her baton. Marguerite and Alice are members of the Marching Band. Eva Nanna put us in that Christmas spirit by her songs.

During our second term we had available in our study room information on careers, vocations, and occupations open to girls after graduation. There were many college catalogs to help us plan for the future.

Thus, the girls of 362 lead the way under the capable guidance of Miss Belden.

SOPHOMORE STATISTICS

Room 211: Not to be overlooked by the larger home rooms, 211 contributed its share to the activities at Kensington. Under the guidance of Miss Flierl, the Sophomore boys of this room have had a successful year. Out for track this year were Richard State, Woody Littlefield and Bill Sarver. Bill Richmond held his own on "Swede" Nilson's cagers and Mr. Warren made room on his swimming team for a real athlete, Arnold Poppenberg.

In the Biology Club, 211 was represented by Lester Schenk and Arnold Poppenberg. James McGuire was a home room reporter for The Compass. Frank Ciurczak and Ronald Sendker were in the St. Patrick's Day Revue as members of the A Cappella Choir. They also took part in the Christmas Pageant. Frank was a king and Ronald had the part of a shepherd. Despite heavy schedules, Carmelo Pizzichemi and Richard State stayed on the Honor Roll.

Room 205: The boys of 205 participated in almost every school activity. Running on the cross country squad were Jerome Label, Carl Roesch, and William Wieland. Donald Szen was assistant manager of the football team. On the basketball squad were David Johnson and Jon Kron, who also made the sub-team. Richard Huck, John McMahon, Arthur Pohl, Robert Stamer and Richard Schmitt all represented 205 on the swimming team with Neil Mahoney as manager. Schmitt, a breast stroker, won his major letter this year.

Conrad Toepfer and Melvin Hoeflin were in the Chess Club. Gene Block, Jon Kron, Edwin Menth and Paul Roetling were on all the honor rolls. Fred Keller and Donald Nawrocki took pictures for The Compass. Melvin Hoeflin, Gordon Kauderer, and Donald Strobl played in Ken's Marching Band. John McMahon, Ronald Ratzel and Donald Strobl took part in the Christmas Pageant. John also sang in the choir on St. Patrick's Day.

SOPH SWIM STARS

By ED FABER and PAUL ROETLING

Noel Eberz, one of our two sensational sophomore swimmers, carries a definite threat of being unbeatable in his future years as a Ken merman. Already, Eberz sports the second best time for the 200 yard freestyle race for this year, being topped only by teammate Bill Beagle. Noel, a never-say-die fellow, has made life miserable for Beagle at every practice. Every time Bill is tempted to take it easy he finds that Eberz is right behind making him drive just a little harder.

Noel is not what you would call big, as he stands five feet seven inches tall and weighs only one hundred thirty-five pounds, but what Noel lacks in stature he more than makes up in spunk and determination. As evidence of this I recall to you this year's dual meet against Bennett. Noel was in third place all during the race behind Bennett's Bill Truckenbrod but as they made their turn for the last length Eberz put every

OF THEE WE SING

Room 207: Gene Willard won his major letter in football. James Bauer represented us in cross country and "Point a minute" Fred Dentinger in basketball. Our swimmers were Ronald Wexler and Raymond Grunthaner. Spring found Gerald Baty, Fred Dentinger, and Gene Willard out for track. Paul Morgan's interest was baseball. Band members Norman Adams, Gene Willard, Al Ferrentino, and Wolie Barback had a busy year. Honor roll leaders in 207 were Daniel Finn, George Goebel, Wolie Barback, Louis Schoen, and Clarence Boje.

Room 209: On the championship football team were Ron Turner, Bill Cunius and Jack Ault, also a standout shot put. Participating in basketball and tennis were Ray Blaszkiewicz and Frank Vogel. Track men were Ron Turner, Jim Sylves, Bill Wallace, Tom Lysiak, Ray Barth, and Ron Kielich. Ed Haller, Jack Ault, and Ron Wind were Marching Band members. Richard Wiesinger led the honor roll throughout the year.

SOPHOMORE SILHOUETTES

With thirty-three shy little Freshmen and one hundred-ten self-reliant Sophomores 462 has had an exciting year. Outstanding among the sophomores in school activities was Korleen Wheelock. Korleen was a majorette with the band and also took part in many of the enjoyable assemblies.

In the fall Anna Bianchi, Jeri Keating, Audrey Bernard, Betty Lou Szydlowski, Carol Borczynski, and Jadawn Frank acted as our graceful cheerleaders. In sports, volleyball, swimming, tennis, basketball, and baseball were very popular among the girls. Jeri Keating, Shirley Mamott, Betty Lou Szydlowski, and Joyce Williams went out for volleyball. Outstanding in swimming were Sue Brueck, Betty Barr, Joyce Williams, Audrey Bernard, Linda Vines, Kathleen Sullivan, and Doreen Eberle. Shirley Mamott and Joyce Williams also took part in basketball. Janet Fuerst and Mary Landgraf were the tennis players from 462.

The voting contest in 462 proved very successful. Janice Stellrecht was voted the girl with the best personality; Eleanor Gleason, the prettiest girl; Audrey Hobson, the most popular girl; Sue Brueck, the most likely to succeed; and Korleen Wheelock, the girl who meant the most to the room. Every one was very pleased with the outcome of the contest.

The Honor Roll leaders in the Sophomore division of 462 were Florence Koscielski, Joan Szymanski, and Sue Brueck. Football ticket sales managers were Nancy Nauth and Marilyn Moyer. Patricia Edmonds represented 462 in the A Cappella Choir. Rose Klimaszewska was the capable chairman of our Christmas Party. News gatherer and reporter for the Compass was Marilyn Moyer.

SOPHOMORE HEADLINERS

In Room 243 there are many girls who are prominent in sports. Joan Walters, Sue Haun, Elaine Simmet, Rose Marie Romagnuolo, and Nancy Syrcher represent us in every sport except swimming.

Approximately half of the girls in 243 participated in the beautiful Christmas Pageant. Madonna Shea and Janet Gilchriese are outstanding in musical talent for each of them belongs to the Orchestra, the Band, and the A Cappella Choir. Ellen Macholz and Marjorie Springer also represent us in the Orchestra.

Connie Bessey, Joan Deyot, Sue Haun, Yvonne Catlin, and Gay Bowen have been witnesses to many interesting discussions of the History Forum, and Connie Bessey, Nancy Syrcher, and Rose Marie Romagnuolo have been diligent members of the Dramatic Club. Patricia Weigley and Marion Stapf have given

The girls of 366 have gone all out to make this year a big success. Starting the year right, Judy Warsocki won a prize for selling many tickets for the night football game.

Among those who participated in at least three sports were: Jean Rathman, Jean Schenk, Janice Seibert, Bette Smith, Jane Staebell, Clara Syroczynski, Mary Lou Urso, Carol Vogenauer, Peggy Volk, Carol Waters, Maryann Wilk, and Dolores Zanghi. Playing on the Varsity Volleyball Team were Mary Lou Urso and Peggy Volk. Janice Seibert and Peggy were members of the Girls' Basketball Team.

Joiners of three clubs or more were Gertrude Staley, Carol Waters, and Dorothy Wittlief. Judy Warsocki and Carol Waters, members of the Journalism Club, wrote for the "Ken Key Notes." The Christmas Party was capably managed by Marcia Powell and Joan Reeb.

FRESHMAN FOOTNOTES

COLOR BEARERS

Brian Chapman, John Cantelin, and Edward Baum salute the flag in the Armistice Day Program.

Christmas Party: Shortly before the vacation, 306 had a big party which brought out much hidden talent. Ronald Strzelczyk is one of the best boogie piano players ever heard in 306. Bob Mruk and Norm Fuerfanger showed sensational talents on the accordion leaving us marveling at their exclusive style. The boys enjoyed ice cream and candy bars and were entertained by Bob Mathewson and Ken Reisweber, two very good amateur magicians. Other entertainers were Dan De Simone, Don Farr, and John Hoffman.

Shoe Shine Box: This year money from the study room fund was used to buy a shoe shine box and equipment. Boys whose shoes were dull and unshined were encouraged to use the box which will have a permanent place in 306 because it helped to keep the boys looking neat.

Super-Salesman: Dennis Mulane helped set the 51,000 attendance mark at the Bennett-Ken night football game by selling $97.50 worth of tickets.

THE YEARLINGS

Our first year at Kensington introduced to us a new kind of life. We enjoyed every moment of becoming accustomed to the busy routine—standing during lunch, climbing four flights of stairs to our lockers, trying to put just one more article in them when they were bulging with our numerous belongings, those mammoth assemblies which seemed to come just in the midst of a hectic Friday. The first football and basketball games, and those terrific swimming meets were thrilling to the tiniest of Freshmen. The cups "we" won made us feel proud to belong to Kensington.

Honored and proud were we when Jeanette La Bianca our "nightingale of 406" left school to begin her music tour in Europe. She sang for our Christmas Party at which there were special recordings and entertainment including our self-styled "Mr. Hush."

We were always eager to complete our day's work so we could take part in after school activities. Many girls participated in sports. Ruth Lappin was made captain of the Varsity volleyball team. On Ruth's team were Lucille Hochmuth, Irmgard Krumbholtz and Susan Burkhardt. Janice Neffke was elected captain of the basketball team. Also on the team were Lorraine Paruszynski, Carol Oberlander, Theresa Del Col, and Joan Haberer. Dorothy Kahle was on both the basketball and volleyball teams. Carol Oberlander and Marilyn Brauch won places on the Varsity swimming team.

In the field of music, Nancy Bowers sang in the A Cappella Choir along with Charlotte Cash who also took part in the St. Patrick's Day Program and the spring operetta.

FRESHMEN FIRST

Cross Country: Two Freshman boys proved themselves outstanding in the All-High Columbia Cup meet this year. Tom McCarthy finished 8th in the city and 1st for the school beating the more experienced runners of last year, proving that Freshmen can do it. Walter Allen nailed down 35th in the city and finished 8th for the school.

Intramural Basketball: Coach Herb Nilson was surprised at the large turnout of Freshman basketball teams this year. Thirteen teams participated. "The Fighting Freshmen" survived the preliminaries and semi-finals but were beaten by the Senior "Bengals." The members of the Freshman team were Frank Bellezza, Jim Case, Spence Bickel, Paul Barlow, Walter Allen, Jim McMahon, and Roy Schneggenburger.

Swimming: "Freshmen break city record." The Freshman 160 yd. freestyle relay of Bill Sullivan, Fred Guerra, Allen Larter, and the sensational Bob Yates splashed to a new city record of 1:24.9 breaking the former record held by South Park of 1:27.6. Coach Warren expects great things of these boys in the future. Other members of the squad were Jerry Rooney, Joe Hastreiter, Bob Safford, John Re, Gordon Errick, Vern Leipler, Bruce Pegrum, Gerald Brenner, and Dick Haberl.

Still More: Norm Millard, coach of tennis, has two Freshman boys whom he expects to earn their varsity letters and be a great help to the team. They are Robert Mruk and little Dick Weigert.

We prophesy that Mr. Bergstrom will find some outstanding Freshman for the baseball team and thus end a very successful year for Freshman sports.

FRESHMEN—ROOM 406

Bottom Row: Kathleen Sieracki, Audrey Naedele, Dolores Martin, Nancy Simon, Jean McInnis, Carol Wind, Frances Norton, Theodosia Rock, Frances Ruppert, Rita Mechlinski, Marilyn Walleshauser, Agnes Will, Lorraine Paruszynski, Louise Meger, Eleanor Wirth, Grace Moore, Ruth Lappin.

Second Row: Ruth Lichtenberger, Joyce Sevdale, Patricia Loftus, Marie Leibel, Joann Lorence, Joan Stenman, Nancy Ryba, Geraldine Thrun, Eileen Stanke, Joan Stehle, Carol Macholz, Mary Ann Milani, Carol Mundorff, Nancy Menz, Janet Stevenson, Maxine Zielinski, Janet Reh, Patricia Nowak, Barbara Mioducki.

Fourth Row: Mary Slavinski, Elizabeth McMillan, Rosemary Williams, Mary Ann Szuminski, Marjorie Windsor, Shirley Schleidt, Shirley Schmitt, Patricia McGurty, Eleanor Snyder, Rose Mary Pralow, Phyllis Rupp, Irmgard Krumbholz, Lorraine Latz, Donna Rajkowski.

FOURTH FLOOR GALLERY

Room 404: The past year has been a pleasant one which we will always remember. Outstanding in scholarship were Delphine Szafranski, Kathleen Sieracki, Joan Stenman, Mary Ann Szuminski, and Shirley Schmitt. Joan, our nimble tap dancer, took part in the St. Patrick's Day program and the Riverside football rally. Phyllis Rupp, Rose Pralow, Ruth Schulz, and Gloria Townsend were swimmers in the Water Show.

When Room 406 held two guessing contests to support the football games, Diana Stoeckel and Donna Rajkowski, both of 404, won the prizes. Lucky Kathleen Sieracki won the ring on Hallowe'en. She was also secretary on the Projection Staff.

Theodosia Rock and Shirley Schmitt were accepted in the A Cappella Choir. Delphine Szafranski spent most of her free time in the art room, helping to make decorations for various programs. Delphine was in the Cartoon Club and Studio Club.

Room 403: At the Hallowe'en Party, Maria George won the prize for the prettiest period costume and Marilyn Jones for the most original. Maria has a collection of dolls from all over the world. Carol Bowen's hobby is collecting notes on modern painters.

Patricia Lewandowski, Jean Pfau, and Marilyn Jones were on every Honor Roll. Carol Lund, basketball coach for St. Bartholomew's, was elected president of her English class. Marilyn Miller joined the Home Economics Club. Georgeann Becker and Carol De Grood were Y-Teen Club members.

Sports were popular with Carol Bowen, Marguerite Clifford, Joan Ormsby, and Maria George who participated in the Water Show. Joyce Graff, Shirley Kroth, and Patricia Lewandowski earned 50 points for bowling. Carol Peacock, who is a baton twirler in the Marching Band, was also on the Varsity volleyball team.

FROSH A, B, C'S

Room 306: Before the St. Patrick's Day Program, Mr. Haynes asked for dependable, trustworthy, intelligent boys to assist on the Stage Crew. Since more boys applied than were necessary, the pruning knife decided that only the best of the applicants need be picked by Mr. Meegan. When the process of elimination was complete, the following Freshman boys were selected: Robert Kirchmyer, Paul Moyer, Conrad Forbach, Albert Evans, Dick Bundscho, Phil Hinman.

Another call was received earlier in the year from Miss Heacock for those interested in the Projection Staff. Of the boys responding, the following became very dependable members: Paul Moyer, Phil Hinman, Brian Chapman, John Cable, Richard Beck, and Richard Bissonette. These boys are to be commended for a job well-done.

Room 313: Although not many of the boys in 313 were active in sports, we were all loyal rooters. Practically everyone went to the football games and Bob Bumpus went to almost all the basketball games. The swimming meets were well-attended, too.

Music is popular up in 313. We have a very fine A Cappella Choir singer in Donald Farrell, who was in the Christmas Pageant and the Easter Program. John Hinchey is a clarinet player in the Marching Band. Ronald Ernewein and John Birner made melody in the third period band every day. Norm Wojciechowski plays the accordion outside of school and Ed Zasowski bangs the drums for a pastime.

Clarence Ball, a Chess Club member, has been on the honor roll every marking period. Vic Palmer brought our tree and took care of the refreshments for our Christmas party. Frank Story, who transferred from Tech, was on the swimming team when he was there—a prospect for next year's Ken team.

We all agree that we have had the best home room teacher in the school in Mr. McMahon.

BUSY BEES

The Freshman girls in 462 and 466 have an enviable record in sports, attendance, and good marks. The following made Honor Roll grades: Sally Harrington, Joanne Triftshauser, Mary Ellen Barth, Philomena Ceglia, Mary Cole, Jeanne Hoppe, Barbara Klopfer, Jean Meilsoe, Phyllis Parry, Janet Pert, Lillian Richter, Carolyn Waddell, Virginia Saxer, Kathleen Speidel, June Stephan, Madeline Usinski, and Marjorie Propster.

Sports enthusiasts were:

Swimming: Donna Seese, Carol Harris, Carol Keck, Frances Macura, Lillian Richter.

Basketball: Phyllis Parry, Joan Fuerst, Carol Harris.

Volleyball: Donna Seese, Joan Fuerst, Joan Gutekunst, Carol Harris, Nancy Henning, Carol Keck.

Absent from picture: Joyce Graff, Stella Mazza.

IN THE FOOTLIGHTS

Room 453: One of the most popular activities with the girls of 453 was volleyball, in which Norma Barrett, Phyllis Cline, Gloria Denny, and Pat Ehrenberg participated. Phyllis made the varsity team. Basketball also proved a popular sport. Among those who participated were Gloria Denny, Phyllis Cline, Joan Foley, Jerene Catuzzi, Mary Lou Brady, and Nancy Hein.

Norma Barrett, Gloria Denny, Jerene Catuzzi, Mary Lou Brady, and Nancy Hein enjoyed the swimming. Gloria was the outstanding swimmer and became a member of the varsity team. Evelyn Lewis was the lone bowler of the room, and Lorraine Kulesz and Leah Miller the only tennis fans.

At the Hallowe'en party, Gloria Denny was fortunate in winning one of the prizes which was awarded. The girls also kept up to the scholastic standards. Jean Lawrence, Pat McColly, Carol Geitl, and Pat Morgan were on the honor roll during the year.

The girls of 463 will never forget the whirl of Freshman year at Ken and our first home, sweet home room. We enjoyed all sports, but swimming topped the list. Cathy Feider was a member of the Varsity Swimming Team. Water Show mermaids were Marilyn Lattimer, Ruth Hagelberger, Shirley Gassman, Nancy Maxon Cathy Feider, and Ginnie Moison.

We never missed a football or basketball game. Mary Abrams was our ticket manager. She also modeled in the "Teen" Fashion Show. The Hi-Teen Contest, for the healthiest and prettiest teeth, was won by Roberta Cronin, a smiling member of our class. Donna Mussen was the Mistress of Ceremonies at our Freshman Hallowe'en Party. Jewel Ott, our talented singer, took part in the Christmas Pageant, the St. Patrick's Day Program, and was a Geisha Girl in the operetta. Voted brainiest were Mary Abrams, Ruth Hagelberger, and Dorothy Gottovi.

HONOR ROLL

This Honor Roll includes the names of all students who have had an average of 90% or higher on the first and second quarterly Honor Rolls this year. The third and fourth quarterly lists appear too late for publication. Each asterisk denotes the number of times a student attained an honor average.

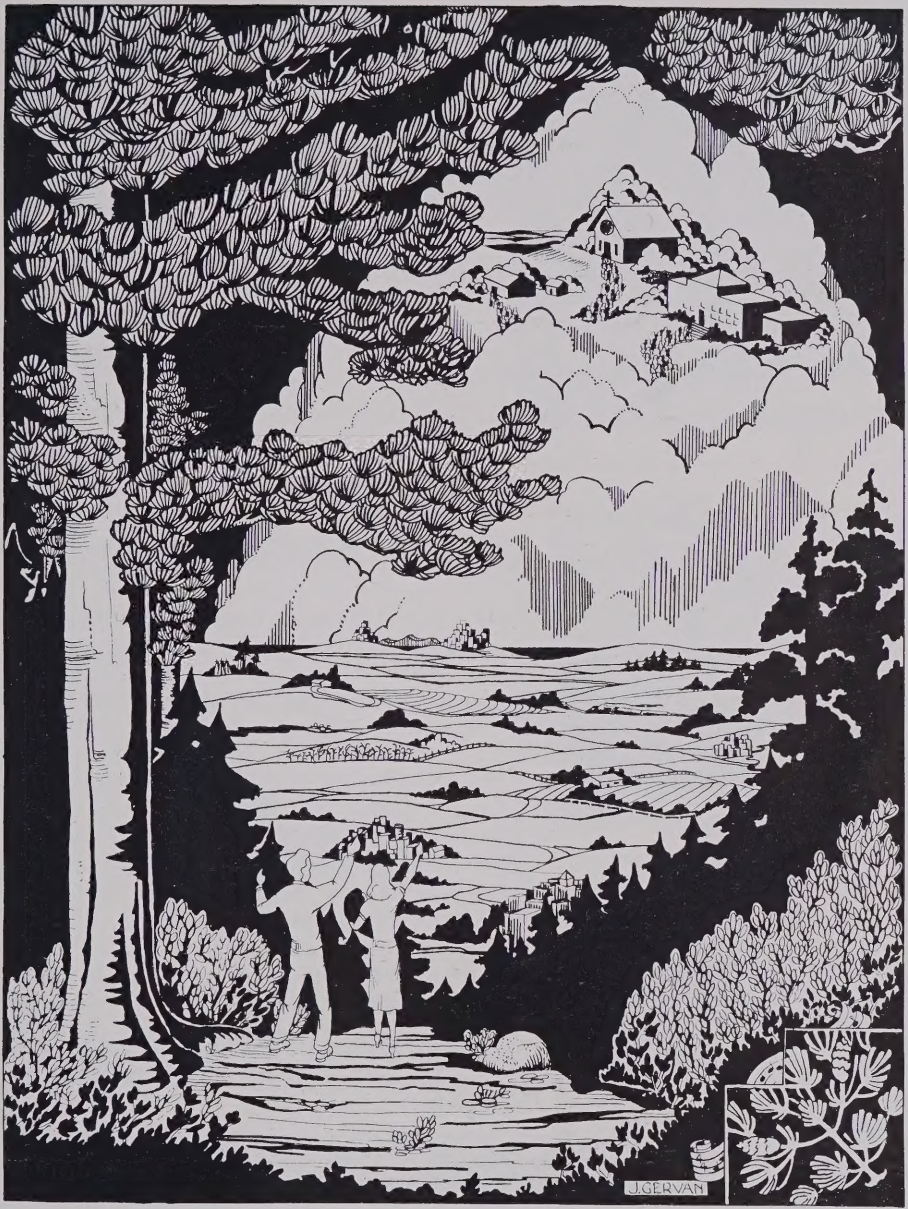
ACTIVITIES

The towering pine, native to the northern states of America, is the setting of a playground for skiing in the winter sunshine, for summer hiking in the cool woods fragrant with pine needles. It brings to mind the spaciousness, the freedom of our country, the love of recreation that so characterizes Americans.

At Kensington, we are free to choose from a wealth of recreational opportunities. We learn to cultivate a variety of interests, to enjoy our chosen hobbies. We may paint or sing, debate or act. We may play chess, converse in a foreign tongue, or study biological specimens, but whatever we do, we learn the value of a good balance between work and play.



ACTIVITIES: The pine tree, flourishing in regions distant from us, suggests travel. Our family's vision is of the advantages that America offers—its schools, churches, freedoms, ideals, and recreations. It makes us remember that we are free to indulge in whatever hobby interests us—art, music, drama; here we have free scope for our interests. The more we see of our country, the more we appreciate its marvelous opportunities.

MARGERY GROTZKA
Editor-in-Chief

COMPASS STAFF

Marge, our popular Editor-in-Chief, won the admiration and praise of everyone for her excellent work in planning and directing the production of the 1949 Compass. She gained her journalistic experience as literary editor and later as associate editor of Ken Keynotes.

Joan proved herself very deserving of her position as Associate Editor. For four years, she served as a home room reporter for The Compass. In the Journalism Club, Joan has constantly improved her unique literary style and her talent for writing and editing copy.

JOAN FARRELL
Associate Editor

HUBBARD RANDALL
Associate Editor

Hub found that his work as Associate Editor demanded all his versatility. Besides the various odd jobs Hub "acquired", he also was responsible for planning and completing the boys' part of the athletics section. His literary style has an interesting poetic touch.

Pat won her place as Advertising Manager by securing almost $100 in ads. In addition to persuading merchants to buy space in our yearbook, Pat assisted Mr. Meegan, the advisor, in planning the layout for The Compass advertising section.

As Picture Editor, Lois scheduled all Senior class pictures. Every day for months, she could be found surrounded by students demanding convenient appointments. She also identified proofs, coaxed the delinquent into making appointments, and organized the Senior panels for the engraver.

Circulation Managers Dick and Tom had the tremendous task of counting and distributing over 2,200 copies of The Compass. Under Mr. McMahon's direction, they planned an efficient schedule and did a fine job in delivering all the books promptly to the home rooms and to the alumni.

Marion, our capable Secretarial Manager, thinks nothing of typing at the rate of 70 words a minute. She supervised the preparation of all the copy for the printer, directing our competent secretaries who typed thousands of lines of copy and set a new high standard of accuracy and efficiency.

ART STAFF

ART EDITORS: Eleanor Lutzmann is affectionately called "Elmer" by the rest of the art students. She has an abundant supply of energy and is noted for her cheerful disposition. Eleanor showed her talent in art when she won first prize for her box cover design.

Joan Frankenberger, or "Frankie" for short, won fame at Ken with her design on the program for "Mrs. Murphy's Boarding House." Joan entered the scholastic art competition with two paintings from memory, "Rodeo" and "An Auction."

Both girls well deserved to be chosen as co-art editors because of their experience in Compass work, their artistic talent, and their executive ability.

Planning Our Theme

After we had chosen our theme, the search began through numerous books and magazines. We made drawings—studies of trees, hills, clouds, buildings, grass, rocks, flowers, and people. Hours and hours of time were spent in collecting and sorting reference for use in this year's Compass. Every small detail in the drawings had to be checked for accuracy, composition and whether the theme was carried out to the best advantage. A movie entitled "America the Beautiful" was shown to the art classes and a recording was made of the script which was played over and over to give us more ideas. We sketched models before and after school to illustrate the family in our drawings.

The next step was to practice a definite pen and ink technique until we had mastered it. We spent many hours discussing our plans until every one on the staff understood our aims and could begin their drawings. Through the outstanding supervision and guidance of Miss Ethel M. C. Davis, our art advisor, our yearbooks have won fame for the originality of their themes and the excellence of their art work.

LITERARY STAFF

The Literary Staff of the 1949 Compass, with the Press Association Trophy ever in mind, worked diligently to turn out a yearbook equal to our previous successes. Their pens scratched day after day recording the events of a busy year. With the assistance of these Senior reporters our yearbook will, we hope, as it has in the past seven years, set the standard for superior high school publications.

SECRETARIAL STAFF

Working efficiently and speedily "behind the scenes", our capable secretaries accomplished a tremendous task. They found their way through a maze of editorial corrections, checked the spelling of hundreds of names and returned everything perfectly typed for the printer. The enthusiastic cooperation of the Secretarial Staff has been an important factor in the success of The Compass.

ADVERTISING STAFF

The Compass Advertising Staff is a big factor in the success of the yearbook. It is an organization open to anyone securing an ad. A student obtaining $30 or more in ads becomes a member of the "Ad Club."

Since Patricia E. Eldridge, Room 162, secured the greatest number of ads, she was selected this year's President, as well as Compass Advertising Manager. Other officers were Donald Jeris, Room 306, Vice President; Wilma Tessmann, Room 162, Secretary; and Shirley Thoemmes, Room 406, Treasurer.

The success of the advertising staff and club is largely due to the untiring efforts of Mr. Meegan, faculty advisor.

DEBATE

Surrounded by the halo of success, eight candidates emerged victorious from the tryouts for the debate teams. Immediately they entered into a program of extensive training and preparation needed to search out the valuable information concerning the proposition to be debated, "Resolved that the proposed amendment to the Constitution to limit the President of the United States to two four year terms be ratified."

After consultations with their coaches, Miss Flierl and Mr. McMahon, the two teams "reserved" seats at the Grosvenor Library where they eagerly hunted valuable information concerning the proposition. From carefully compiled data, the direct speeches were composed. These were mercilessly criticized and corrected.

With the revised speeches memorized and rebuttal notes prepared, our affirmative and negative teams were ready to face their opponents, South Park and Fosdick Masten.

Even though we lost both debates, the experience and knowledge which we gained have been sufficient reward for our efforts.

HISTORY FORUM

The History Forum crowded Room 159 every Tuesday afternoon to discuss problems peculiar to the world crisis. Under the capable supervision of Miss Walker the Forum elected Hubbard Randall, president; Bradley Smith, vice-president; Eleanor Barbuto, secretary; and Richard Moss, treasurer.

Our arm-chair diplomats began their first meeting with a heated debate of the Taft-Hartley Bill which was continued at a future session. As guest speaker, Mrs. Modak, who spent most of her life in the Far East, related the grave social and economic problems confronting India. At a later meeting moving pictures were shown illustrating the facts of her discussion. As the conclusion to a successful year, the Forum held a round-table discussion based on the grim situation facing the United Nations.

It is evident that the student of today is becoming more and more aware of the serious status of this ever changing world for in its ninth year the History Forum had its largest attendance.

CARTOON CLUB

Have you ever had the urge to create some odd, whimsical characters? If you had, you would have greatly enjoyed the daily meetings of the Cartoon Club under the capable leadership of Mr. Fisher. There, in Room 237, the future Al Capps and Walt Disneys met, and with pencil and paper in hand, created their versions of the Shmoos and the Donald Ducks of the future.

When we read the comic strips and cartoons in the newspaper, we do not fully appreciate the forethought, skill and imagination necessary to produce a finished copy. At preliminary meetings, Mr. Fisher explained how to draw stick figures and clothed stick figures. Later, the finishing touches were added such as drawing hands, feet, wrinkles in clothing and small detail work.

Besides drawing cartoons and comic strips, these aspiring artists created some very fine editorial cartoons. Howard Mandell, one of the outstanding members, entered some of his cartoons in a national contest in Philadelphia.

The recently organized Cartoon Club is on its way to becoming one of the most popular and entertaining groups in the school. There is never a dull moment for the 35 members who chose the following officers: President, Howard Mandell; Vice President, Sylvia Buhles; Secretary, Constance Yeostros; and Treasurer, Theodore Deck.

Out of their every day experiences and research, the members portrayed in their cartoons what is seen and felt to make life interesting. The Cartoon Club of Kensington is a by-word for enjoyment.

STUDIO CLUB

Among the various after school activities at Ken, one of the most exciting and progressive has been the Studio Club. Organized early in the fall, the Studio Club has made itself efficient and useful throughout the year.

Every Tuesday at 2:30, all the anxious future artists of our generation crowded Room 250 to work on their own projects. The officers of the club were Doris Krumbholz, President; and Leona Golubickas, Secretary. Models were Dolores Zanghi, Dick Erb and Raymond Grunthaner. Under the brilliant direction and supervision of Miss Davis, the Studio Club has produced many spectacular projects. Members decorated the auditorium for the football assemblies with signs of "Let's Go We Can Do It" and "We Did It." The highlight of the Studio Club's season was the mural of the football team in action with the crowded stands in the background and a silhouette of Coach Bergstrom.

During the Christmas season, members designed the place-cards and the programs for the Teachers' Christmas Party. For St. Patrick's Day, banners with "Top O' the Morning" . . . "Erin Go Bragh," shiny green shamrocks and black hats were created to decorate the auditorium. The yearbook was the final project for this club with each member working hard to make it the traditional success.

GERMAN CLUB

Do you remember hearing those beautiful strains from the opera, "Die Meistersinger" by Wagner? That's right, it was on a Thursday afternoon. As you approached Room 239 you found that the music was coming from inside. The German Club which is directed by Miss Westerman was listening to recordings of the opera.

At other formal meetings the students discussed German literature, habits and customs. In this way they became more familiar with the land and language they were studying. On the lighter side they played games in which the German language was used and sang German folk songs. All have great fun at these informal meetings.

At the club's annual Christmas party the members sang German Carols. Perhaps you heard them singing that familiar one, "Stille Nacht". As a good will gesture the club sent clothes and candy abroad for distribution to the German children.

Officers of this club for the past year were: President, Nancy Stubbe; Vice-President, Donald Heiss; Secretary, Doris Oliver; Treasurer, Robert Keller.

COMMERCE CLUB

Once a month the business aspirants of Kensington, under the efficient supervision of Mrs. Jacobs, congregated in Room 301. They discussed the problems which confront seniors in the commercial courses who are preparing to earn their livelihood in the business world.

At some of the meetings the members were inspired by guest speakers from business offices. Demonstrations of the new types of office machinery on the market today and moving pictures portraying actual situations which occur every day in business offices were part of the club activities. The members were allowed time at the end of each meeting to discuss any questions which might have arisen from the demonstrations or other discussions of that particular session. Many of the club members have attained positions on the Compass Secretarial Staff. These typists are using their experience for a worthy purpose.

At one of the club meetings, the members elected as their officers, Marion Mazurowska, President; Anna Perino, Vice-President; Norma Olivieri, Secretary; and Lois Van Buskirk, Treasurer.

Mrs. Jacobs deserves a great deal of appreciation for her excellent work in supervising and making this organization a definite success.

AUDIO-VISUAL

One of the best indications of progress in our modern educational system is the acceptance of new methods and new ideas. In the field of Audio-Visual education, Kensington has led to another first by giving its whole hearted support through the Projection staff.

Our leadership, not only in the east, but throughout the country, has been recognized by a national magazine, "The Journal of the National Education Association." Recently, the Journal published an illustrated article describing the successful operation of the Pro-

BROADCASTING

Norbert Bishop, Ronald Garneret, Marlene Jackson.

THE BEGINNERS

Instructors R. Freeman, R. Rogalski, J. Barr and J. Franzek show a training film to new members of the staff.

Broadcasting

The use of the wire recorder as an audio-visual aid is becoming more apparent to many educators. Kensington's wire recorder is one of the most popular machines in the school, for the public speaking classes and the debate teams use it constantly. Errors in pronunciation are picked up and played back so that each student may hear and correct his own mistakes.

The wire recorder serves, too, to retain the lovely strains of the A Cappella choir which might otherwise be lost. Through this medium, the lovely Christmas carols, and the lilting St. Patrick's Day tunes are captured and sent over the public address system to be enjoyed by a great many people.

Occasionally, when a film has a great value, a record is made of the sound track so that this may be used even though the movie itself is not available.

The Beginners

Freshmen and Sophomores who join the staff are placed in a class of instruction when their personal applications have been accepted. After a period of general instruction, each beginner is assigned to a more experienced staff member, from whom he receives personalized teaching in the construction and operation of the various audio-visual aids.

When he is thoroughly familiar with the equipment, he is sent out with a regular operator to watch and to assist. It is a proud day when the beginner, having passed his examination, receives his coveted license, and takes his place as a regular projection staff operator.

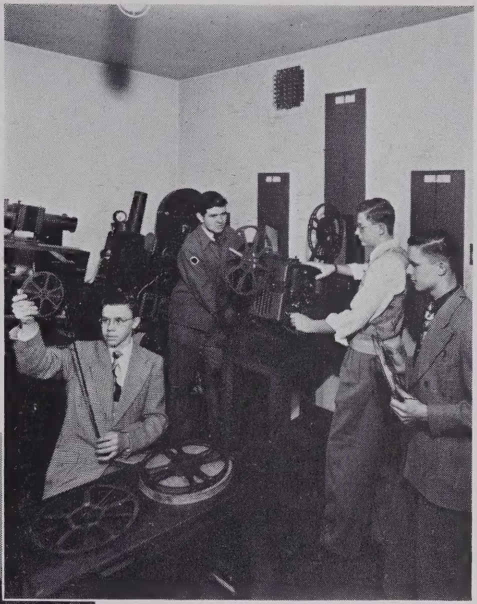
jection Staff at Kensington, under the guidance of our capable faculty advisor, Miss Heacock.

Because staff members are always quietly and efficiently on the job, the students and teachers alike recognize the value of an Audio-Visual program for classroom instruction. Not only do both welcome the change from routine teaching methods, but they appreciate the time and energy devoted by this service club for the benefit of the entire student body.



IN THE PROJECTION BOOTH

THE SECRETARIES

M. Olivieri, Miss Heacock, G. Botham, R. Deperro, J. Flick.

In the Booth

From the projection staff booth come many of the movies which are enjoyed by the school as a whole during assembly time, and after school. A second 16 mm. projector, acquired during the last year, eliminated the necessity for long pauses during reel changes and greatly increased our enjoyment of such features as "Great Expectations."

Slides, carefully typed and prepared by the Projection Staff secretaries and student operators have also increased the pleasure of assemblies through audience participation singing on St. Patrick's Day and other important occasions.

During important stage productions, the spotlights which add so much to the performances are also in the care of the booth operators who work in the booth in cooperation with the stage crew.

The Secretaries

The center of all Projection Staff activity is the staff office, where the busy secretaries control from behind the scenes the intricate movements of the operators. In addition to those pictured, familiar faces behind the 412 typewriter are those of Shirley Naedele, Rose Del Col, Rosemary Blersch, Jacqueline Kraft, and June Valentine.

On duty from eight in the morning until three o'clock, the girls see that the teachers are familiar with the material available, and order the films. Later, they set up a schedule to insure that the operator, the projector, and the film arrive at the same place at the same time.

The endless work which must be done before a ten minute classroom film can be shown makes the work of the staff secretaries invaluable.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

This year, the Home Economics Club was most successful in carrying out its aims of fun and good fellowship. The club's many projects to help the less fortunate were led by these active officers: Irene Anastasi, President; Elaine Brady, Vice President; Norma Angst, Secretary; and Phyllis Gay, Treasurer.

At Christmas, the club made snowmen favors for the children's ward of the City Hospital. The Crippled Children's Guild was delighted to receive the Easter eggs ingeniously decorated by the girls.

A fashion show presenting, "Wardrobe Winners for the Modern Miss," provided many helpful hints for all the girls in the school. Some of the girls in the club modeled the fashions.

Under the excellent supervision of Miss Stoesser, Miss Nesper, Miss Meach, and Mrs. Hyman, several projects were started in which each girl could choose the one she favored. Some girls made shell jewelry while others, with great determination, learned to knit. Many hidden talents were discovered as the girls created unusual stuffed animals, gay lapel pins made of yarn, and hospital scrap books.

Amid the popping of corn, the girls celebrated Christmas with a gala party. It was great fun for the girls working together to make pop corn balls.

To bring to a close a successful year of activity and achievement, the club sponsored a tea.

Kensington Wins Chess Championship

The Club's mental giants (the chess team), undefeated after many hard fought battles with kings, queens and knights, for the second consecutive year merited the distinction of being the best high school chess combination in the city. Those representing the green and gold of Kensington in the interscholastic competition this year, were Captain, Kenneth Day; Robert Cruise, Bruce Burr, Martin Schultz, George Maurer, Stanley Axelrod, and Donald Dahlke.

Chess is a game that truly can be enjoyed throughout life and all enthusiasts were warmly welcomed at the regular Wednesday afternoon meetings in Room 207. Regardless of size, sex, or brain power, all newcomers were guaranteed instruction in the fundamentals of the game, during the first few meetings, by Mr. Millard, the enthusiastic faculty advisor.

Outstanding among the chess events of 1948-49 was the demonstration and exhibition given club members by Mr. Stanley Smith of the Queen City Chess Club, one of Buffalo's most formidable chess experts.

As a result of the Christmas tournament held among club members, Robert Cruise and Richard Freeman both received boxes of candy. The Kensington High School championship chess tournament was won by Bruce Burr with Robert Cruise as runner up.

Officers of this enterprizing club were President, Robert Cruise; Vice-President, Kenneth Day; Treasurer, Bruce Burr; and Secretary, Rose Hoeger.

BIOLOGY CLUB

Biology club members Raymond Pauley and Lester Schenck operate the bioscope. Norma Elsaesser and Sandra Dykins study slides under the microscopes while Margaret Volk checks their findings.

Upon entering Room 457 at the close of a school day, you would have encountered the Doctor Mayos and Florence Nightingales of the future busily studying blood or possibly paramecium through their microscopes. This group was the newly formed Biology Club under the sponsorship of Mrs. Eardman.

Having paused long enough to elect officers, they came up with the following results: President, Margaret Volk; Vice-President, Sandra Dykins; and Secretary, Norma Elsaesser. During their Thursday afternoon sessions, the members have dissected the embryo of a calf, prepared papers on the human brain, genetics, and the effect of radio activity on the body. At one meeting, they heard Mr. Albing lecture on the topic "Grafting and Budding in Plants". One of their most interesting projects led by Dr. Schadle of the University of Buffalo, was the study and observation of porcupines.

In the future the Club hopes to make several field trips, visit the Museum and study further the broad subject of Biology.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

If, some afternoon, your nostrils should detect an interesting (?) odor, or you should hear a muffled explosion or two from the fourth floor, don't get excited and cry: "Wha' hoppon'd!!"

Rest assured, it's only the new Chemistry Club. Although just recently formed, it already has a large and enthusiastic following. There is a reason for this interest. The club combines practical education, imagination, and fun at the informal get-togethers held each Wednesday afternoon in Room 409. These meetings are held under the capable leadership of Mr. Gianturco and Mr. Alaimo.

The members do outside research on subjects which arouse their curiosity, and bring their findings to the weekly meetings. There, many interesting experiments take place. Howie Hock, Dick Herrmann, John Barone, Sam Label, Gordon McDonald, and Gene Domalski distilled their talents into a fine sample of brandy. No, there weren't any hangovers!

Another tricky experiment was the silvering of a mirror by Marlene Jackson and Rita Lang. Bradley Syrcher, Gerald Theisen, and Jack Pearl patiently conducted the experiment at least ten times before they finally got the "mushroom" cloud of the thermit reaction. Other activities carried on were electroplating, the making of fire extinguishers, paint, gun powder, and soap.

The dues are to be used for purchasing extra equipment, special chemicals, and also for a club picnic to be held in June.

There was never a dull moment and the group even took time out from their scientific pursuits to elect these officers: Treasurer, Richard Moss; and Secretary, Josephine Boydo.

LIBRARY MONITORS

Every morning at eight-thirty the monitors were busy collecting fines, charging books, slipping them, and returning them to the shelves. During each period the girls could be found doing anything from watering the plants to typing catalog cards. At the end of the day when everyone else was on his way home, the faithful library monitors were still on the job putting books away or straightening the magazine rack.

However the library has proved to be a very advantageous place to work. Not only have the monitors profited by having access to almost limitless information; they have also developed poise and have learned how the library functions simply by working in it themselves.

The library is popular with the students because it places at their disposal numerous magazines and newspapers for their reading pleasure as well as research material for their classes. To Mrs. Willis and her efficient helpers go the thanks of all Kensington students for the time they have spent making the library one of the most valuable and enjoyable departments in our school.

JOURNALISM CLUB

Under the capable, patient direction of Mrs. Stewart, the enthusiastic members of the Ken High Journalism Club assembled in Room 209 to learn the "whats and wherefores" of the newspaper business. They have been instructed in writing leads, deciphering newspaper language, and understanding editorial policies. Student publications from other high schools were examined and significant factors about each were discussed. Members received press cards which enabled them to interview more easily noted personalities for special feature articles in the Ken Key-Notes and also certified their membership in the club and on the Key-Notes Staff.

Presiding over the short business meetings were President, Richard Rogalski; Vice-President, Catherine McIntosh; Secretary, Joan Farrell; and Treasurer, Spero Faklaris. Among the outside activities connected with the club, the members attended the Western Zone Interscholastic Press Association luncheon, and also visited the Courier Express on a specially conducted tour.

Because of circumstances beyond control, the well-organized staff of editors and reporters of the Ken Key-Notes were unable to publish an edition, but nevertheless, gained much valuable experience in journalistic writing.

RADIO CLUB

To gain a little working knowledge in the rapidly developing fields of radio and electronics, several of our radio conscious youths have joined the Kensington Radio Club, under the fine leadership of Mr. Haynes.

The boys have made a number of projects this year, such as simple radio sets, audio amplifiers, oscillators, and demonstration apparatus. This club meets eighth period.

Each year many past members of this club return to visit Kensington, and tell Mr. Haynes and the club members how useful the knowledge that they accumulated from attending the Radio Club has been to them. Some of them have applied the knowledge they learned in repairing radio sets of friends and relatives, and still others have made radio a hobby, which is both interesting and educational.

This training may prove to be very valuable in the future years to its members, as half of them look forward to careers in the field of radio. Some may continue into technical radio courses, as one former member of the club is now doing. Others may find their training dealing with basic A. C. theory and electronics useful in college engineering courses.

Our trips to the WBEN studios and transmitters AM, FM and TV as well as to the Huntley power station, were worthwhile experiences in viewing actual production methods.

A most competent group of officers chosen to lead this year's activities were as follows: James Rapp, President; Jack Brueckman, Vice President; Robert Halicki, Treasurer; and John Corbelli, Secretary.

SLIDE RULE CLUB

Were you looking for easy solutions of your math homework? You should have joined the Slide Rule Club which met Wednesdays in Room 104 under the leadership of Mr. Larrabee.

At the first few meetings the fundamentals of the slide rule were taught. After this the President was chosen. Mr. Larrabee gave a test which each member took. The one who had the most problems correct was Clayton Todtenhagen who then became President.

As the students became familiar with the slide rule, they learned how to find the height of an object with the law of sines.

In spring the club measured the height of the school chimney by using the transit and slide rule. Two teams were formed to try their skill at laying a circle without access to the center. They also found the latitude of Buffalo by using the sextant and proved the map correct.

SENIOR FUTURE STAGE DIRECTOR

Among us at Kensington we have a young man who, even before graduation, has found himself well launched on a successful career. James Bravar, a Senior, travels once a month to Pittsburgh where he holds the position of stage manager with the Pittsburgh Opera Association.

James grew up back stage with this same company which was at that time an amateur group. At eight, he was taken into the company as call boy and worked his way up to stage manager. From time to time, he has taken pantomime parts in "The Magic Flute" and "The Marriage of Figaro". Recently, he played the part of the waiter in "La Boheme." Already, in the course of his experience, he has had opportunity to work with such great artists as Jan Peerce, Robert Merrill, and Gladys Swarthout.

Here at Kensington, in addition to being a member of the mixed choir, the band and the orchestra, James has often given a helping hand to the stage crew. He planned the innovations in lighting and the beautiful effect of falling snow for the Christmas Pageant. In the spring, his experience and talent were of invaluable assistance in the staging of "Cherry Blossom."

For the past four years, James has been studying with one of the greatest stage directors in the operatic world, Signor Armando Agnini

BAND AND ORCHESTRA

Much of Kensington's musical success is due to Mr. William Pinkow under whose direction our orchestra and Marching Band have won their fame. Music has found its way into every phase of life at Kensington. Not only do our master minds of music add zest and beauty to our assembly programs and athletic events, but every day they happily serenade the fourth floor class rooms from their pent house above.

Members of the orchestra spent many hours practicing for the Christmas Pageant and the operetta "Cherry Blossom". Whether playing an overture or accompanying the singers, the orchestra can be depended upon to give a fine performance and their splendid work was a notable part of the success of our school productions.

Mr. Pinkow and his musicians occupied the spotlight in this year's Easter program which included the "Hungarian Rhapsody" of Johannes Brahms and several excellent solo numbers.

Kensington's Marching Band, which last year was outfitted in the finest and most colorful uniforms to be had, has become known throughout the city. The excellence and precision of the intricate drills performed at the Night Football Game was universally admired. Our basketball season was also highlighted by the appearance of our famed band at two of the games played at the 174th Armory. The Marching Band, organized by our hard working Mr. Pinkow, has indeed been an inspiration to victory for our teams.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

An appearance of the A Cappella Choir is always a welcome occasion at Kensington. Whether it be a hymn or a lilting Irish melody, this group of over seventy-five boys and girls can hold the entire audience spellbound by the beauty and perfection of their singing.

The choir's polished performances are the result of many hours of hard work under the direction of Miss Townsend. In the preparation of these programs, the selections must first be learned and memorized by each student. At the rehearsals, during fourth period and after school, special attention is placed on diction and tone quality. The most difficult goal to achieve is the blending of all voices into one, which is the final test of a good choir.

This year, Miss Townsend has been developing three separate choirs—the Girls' A Cappella, the Boys' A Cappella and the Mixed Choirs. To the intense delight of the audience, the Boys' A Cappella Choir rendered two barber shop selections, "Coney Island Baby" and "I Had A Dream Dear" in the Thanksgiving program.

In the traditional Christmas Pageant, choir members took the roles of angels, shepherds, and kings. With only four exceptions, the entire cast of "Cherry Blossom", the spring operetta, was recruited from the A Cappella Choirs. The members who filled the major roles also had to learn dance steps to accompany their singing.

For the second time, the A Cappella Mixed Choir presented their annual St. Patrick's Day Program over WBNY. Mr. John Danahy joined the choir in singing the best-loved Irish melodies.

Miss Townsend's perseverance in training the students for A Cappella work has been responsible for the excellence of the choirs. Kensington in the only high school in Buffalo where A Cappella Choir singing is done.

Sure an' twas a good day for the Irish here at Kensington this past St. Patrick's Day.

Mr. Monan invited the retired teachers from South Park High School, his Alma Mater, to be his guests of honor for the day so that they might celebrate together the anniversary of the breaking of ground for South Park High School. After the assembly program, the guests were entertained at a luncheon in the school dining room.

For the first time in the school's history, the traditional program was also presented in the evening so that our families and friends

DRAMATIC CLUB

Usually after school at Kensington the rooms are vacated, everyone has left, and quiet prevails. However, there are many exceptions to this adage; one of them being the activity of the Dramatic Club. On Thursday afternoons shrieks, sighs, and quotations are audible on the second floor, particularly in the region of Room 257.

Inside, Mrs. Johns and Miss Strickland, the directors of this theatrical society, are ardently coaching the ambitious young actors and actresses; while President, Augusta Schultz; Vice-President, "Sparky" Mazzuli; Secretary, Betty Parkhurst watch them with admiration and pride.

These after-school sessions were not without purpose. The club served to familiarize its members with not only the theater of today but also the one of yesteryears. At one session a lively discussion was held to compare the movies with the legitimate stage. During this meeting, the members argued the pros and cons of the movies and stage productions of "Hamlet." A question period followed in which the group learned more about other "Hamlet" presentations from Miss Strickland and Mrs. Johns. However, the club's biggest aim was to instruct the members in extemporaneous speaking and give them confidence and ease before an audience. The project of the club was the presentation of a play which was enacted in the late spring. Through this play, the members had opportunity to portray their newly-acquired dramatic abilities.

This is only the third year of the club's existence, however, the students of Kensington can be assured of its continual duration as an organization which will remain a source of valuable experience and dramatic education to all members.

STAGE TECHNICAL STAFF

"Man the ropes! Raise the screen! Heave the furniture! Pull the curtain! Put the 'spot' on the soloist! Turn the 'mike' (watch that output meter)! Bring up the 'foots'!" . . . Time out for a moment, to run down the stagedoor johnnies who too-literally crashed the stage door by shoving a timber through the glass! All this, and much more, is just a routine day (or evening) for members of the Stage Technical Staff.

True to the tradition that "the play MUST go on," these shadowy figures behind the curtains carry on, "unwept, unhonored and unsung." Because the work demands the closest of coordination and team work, the group prefers to function as equal members of a team, rather than spotlighting some individuals as officers.

The following apprentices are rapidly developing toward full-fledged membership: Richard Bundscho, Burton Campbell, Albert Evans, Conrad Forbach, Robert Kirchmeyer, and Edward Owczarzak.

MISS CHERRYBLOSSOM

"Cherryblossom," a musical comedy in three acts, was presented at Kensington High School on the evenings of May 11, 12, 13, and 14. Musical presentation was under the direction of Miss Marjorie Townsend and Mr. William Pinkow. Miss Louise Strickland was dramatic instructor while Miss Anne Messore coached the chorus in dance steps. Costuming was done by Miss Lenore Dunlavey. Mrs. June Blair Johns was in charge of makeup. Mr. Ray Fisher and Mr. John J. McMahon acted as art and scenic supervisors, respectively. James Bravar, stage director, supervised scenic and lighting effects.

The entire cast was selected for voice and dramatic ability. Eleanor Hughes portrayed the role of Miss Cherryblossom, while Paul Preston displayed his talents as a comedian in the role of Kokomo, her father. Richard Klose, Togo, and Carleton Norton, a young American, were rivals for the hand of Miss Cherry Blossom. Other principal characters in the cast included Shirley Brown, David Gustin, Carl Makey, Marjorie Mueller, William Sugnet, and Bradley Syrcher. A chorus of sixteen Geisha

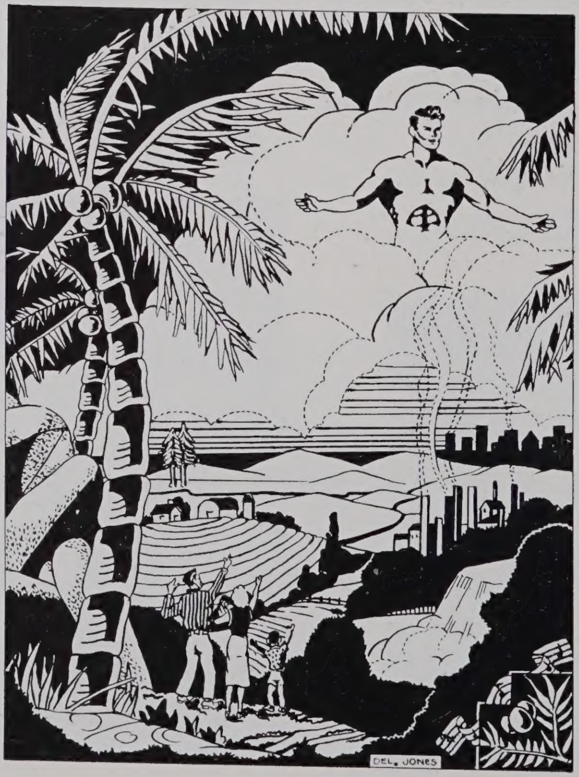
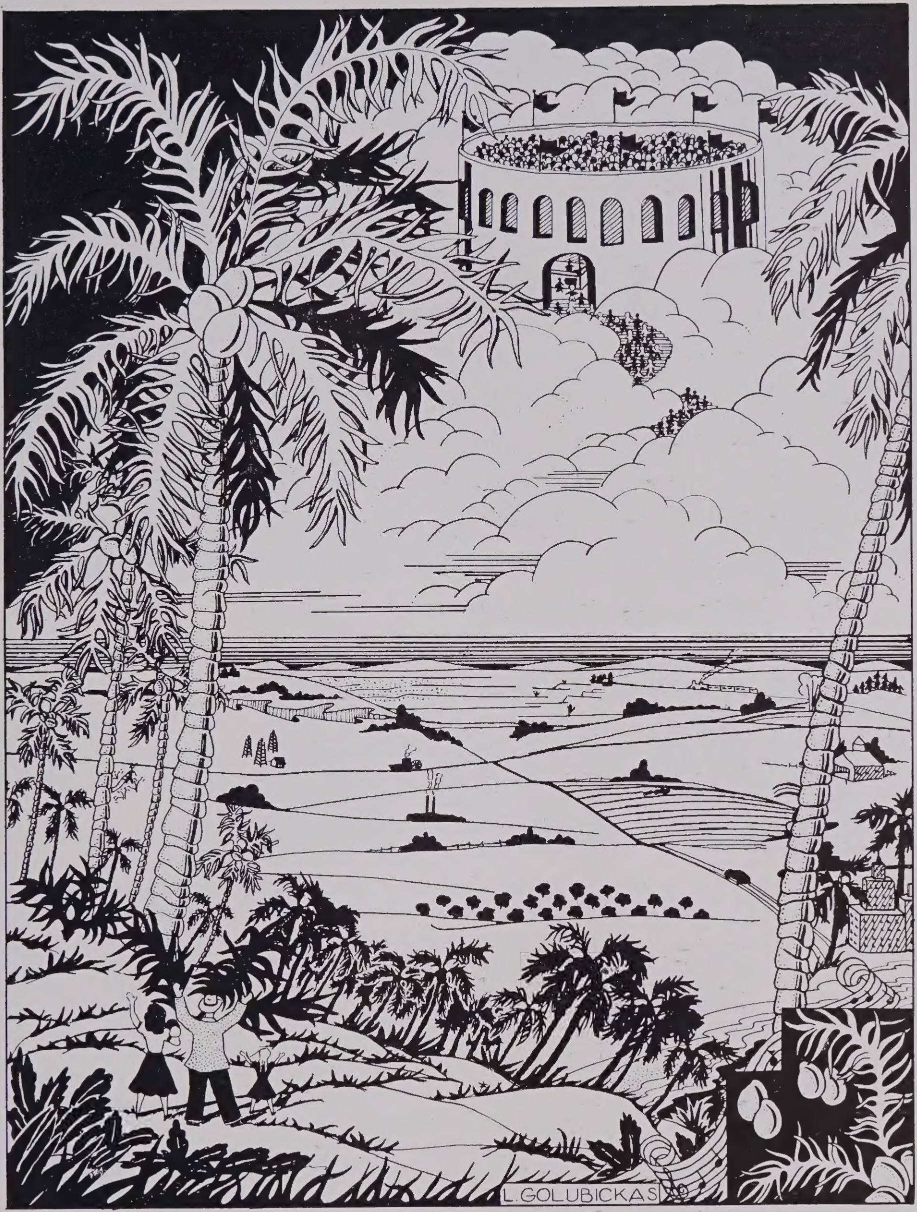
ATHLETICS

Classical tradition associates the palm with victory. Thus, the palm tree symbolizes Olympic games, stadiums, Kensington's athletes who represent Americanism in action. On the athletic fields of Marvelous America, the men and women of tomorrow develop attributes that lead to success. Victory itself is short-lived, but there is permanence in the lessons of good sportsmanship, of fearlessness, of determination learned on the football field, the basketball court, the baseball diamond.

Our athletes learn first that teamwork wins the game. Therefore, it matters not what position we play in the game of life. If we learn to do our share, to shirk no responsibility, to fight fairly for success, we will share in the victory of a greater, united America.





ATHLETICS: The palm tree is symbolic of vacations in the sun—recalling also the ancient tradition of awarding the palm to the victor. Our family's vision is of a stadium, suggesting Olympic games, the development of man's body and of the code of good sportsmanship. We know that the American people must be strong in brain and brawn to guard our sacred honor, to see that justice and order prevail.

CROSS COUNTRY

When September rolled around, Kensington's Cross Country team could be seen running up and down the hills of Delaware Park. As most of last year's team were gone, we had to rebuild the team around our four returning lettermen. But as the season progressed our hope grew immensely because Tom McCarthy and Walter Allen, two freshmen, and Bill Ratzel, a transfer from the Little Seminary, developed into top runners.

The team practiced daily and proved themselves title contenders when they beat Lafayette and Riverside. Bob Scamurra led the Ken boys in followed by Larry Brennan, Tom McCarthy, Bill Ratzel and Ted Zielinski. The next week saw Kensington's well-balanced team beat Tech, East, Bennett and South Park with a low total of 44½ points. Scamurra again led the Knights followed by Gerard Saltarelli, Tom McCarthy, Walter Allen, and Larry Brennan.

The boys buckled down to serious business as the All High meet approached. It was considered one of the most wide open meets in the 41-year old history of the Columbia Cup Cross Country run with several schools given a chance for top honors. As the final score was tabulated, we found ourselves the proud possessors of the cherished trophy. The Knights, led by Tom McCarthy who earned eighth place, took the crown with a total of 68 points. Thus Ralph Duquin, who succeeded Lou Montgomery as Kensington's coach, nailed down the Championship in his first trip to the post. The team as a whole fulfilled "Duke's" expectations with Scamurra taking 9th; Saltarelli, 15th; Haurik, 17th; and Ratzel, 19th. Ted Zielinski, Don Batz, Larry Brennan, Walter Allen, and John Bruno helped the cause tremendously when they finished before some of the other schools' fifth men who are the last point scorers.

"MONTY" GOES TO CORNELL

Last summer, Mr. Louis C. Montgomery, known to all of us as "Monty", terminated one of the most successful coaching regimes in Buffalo scholastic track annals when he accepted a position as Assistant Track Coach at Cornell University.

Monty had won nine consecutive crowns at Bennett before coming to Kensington in September 1938. The school was just beginning to enter athletic competition and Monty astounded local track enthusiasts by taking the championship in 1940. In 1942, he started a seven year victory string that included the title decided last spring. His work with Ken's Cross Country teams was equally brilliant.

We are confident that Monty will continue his long record of victories and wish him every success.

These boys will help "Duke" to bring to Ken future Columbia Cups.

FOOTBALL

"Well, we did it again!" These were the words which our inspiring principal, Mr. Monan, spoke at the victory assembly after the Kensington Knights had completed their second undefeated season on Thanksgiving Day to retain possession of the much coveted Harvard Cup for another year.

Coach Bergstrom had the team in top condition for our opener against Burgard which ended in a decisive 26-0 victory for the Green and Gold. On the very first play of the game, Carl Wyles, our pile driving fullback, intercepted a Bulldog pass and romped 35 yards for the initial score of the season. Wyles added another six-pointer later in the game and Bob Wilde and Chris Frauenhofer also scored for the Knights. Even at this early point in the season, the tremendous power of our line began to display itself as the Burgard backs were repeatedly thrown back for losses.

Ken continued on its winning way with a 19-0 victory over East which saw Frauenhofer, our outstanding halfback, go for the first score

The slogan, "Let's Go, We Can Do It," echoing through the corridors, spurred the Knights on to victory.

Mr. Monan, energetic chairman of the Night Game, inquires if everything is in order.

Ken's well-drilled, green clad Marching Band ushers in the spirited Knight football team.

The first night football game in the history of the Buffalo schools took place on October 21, 1948 at Civic Stadium with the Bennett Tigers and Kensington Knights, both undefeated and untied, fighting it out for top honors. Considered to be the greatest boost to high school football since the inauguration of the Harvard Cup series, the event had an advance sale of 50,057 and although no tickets were sold at the gate dazed officials estimated that another thousand or so "crashed" the gates.

Mr. Monan, who was General Chairman, worked tirelessly and enthusiastically for weeks in advance, planning every detail. He was assisted by a committee of principals and representatives from the high schools and elementary schools. Long before the night of the game, civic interest was so great that little "promotion" was needed to sell tickets. However, we

THE CROWD: 50,988 cheering, roaring, rollicking football fans jampacked Civic Stadium to watch the first Harvard Cup game ever contested under the lights. The crowd, the largest ever to attend a local sports event, filled the seats solid from top to bottom. They choked the aisles and the section entrances. They overflowed the stands and formed a three deep ring of noise around the field. Said Commissioner Thomas J. McMahon: "In all my time, I've never seen anything like it. I opened this stadium and this is the first time I've ever seen it filled like this."

THE GAME: From the opening whistle to the concluding gun shot, our boys played their hearts out and in so doing, out-ran, out-passed, and out-charged the Bennett boys. The Ken linemen played the game of their lives, opening huge holes in the Bennett line, enabling our backs to make constant gains. Chris Frauenhofer, receiving fine blocking, crashed over for our first touchdown after the ball had been steadily advanced by the hard driving of both Frauenhofer and Wyles. The next Ken score came when Bob Wilde faked the entire Bennett team and went 20 yards for a score on a quarterback sneak. The Tigers, attempting a fake kick, were foiled when our cagey Jack Thompson sensed the play and intercepted a pass to score

THE VICTORY: The band clamored as the last few minutes of the game ticked away. Dick Klose, our drum major, and Madonna Shea, who plays the Glockenspiel, stood by proudly smiling up at the cheering Ken section. The big game was over.

We did it again. The field was scattered with excited students running this way and that shouting our victory. Surrounded by a host of whooping fans, the team found it difficult to leave the field.

The 1949 Basketball team, under the guidance of Coach "Swede" Nilson, rose from last year's eleventh place to a position of being tied for second place in this year's final standings. This is the highest position ever attained by a Kensington basketball team in Yale Cup competition.

The Knights opened the season by defeating Riverside and with this victory, Ken's fire-alarm team began to roll and gained momentum with each game, easily defeating Emerson, McKinley, Burgard, South Park, East, Hutchinson, and Grover Cleveland. At this point, Seneca ended our winning streak with a 55 to 39 defeat. Before the team could steady itself again, Lafayette and Bennett also defeated us. However, our boys showed their great fighting spirit and their ability to come back after defeat by downing Fosdick and Technical in the last two games of the season.

Intramural Basketball

Mr. Nilson launched the intramural basketball program early in October with 202 boys taking part in a total of 92 games. The "Bengals" were the final champions. "D'Youville" was the victor in the Sophomore league and "The Fighting Frosh" took the Freshman league. These leagues served their purpose very well, for several boys were discovered and will be developed for future varsity teams.

Realizing that there would be a record attendance at the South Park and East games, the principals agreed to move these games to the Connecticut Street Armory in order to accommodate all the enthusiastic fans who wished to witness the games. The band was present at both these games and helped the Ken cheering section to demonstrate our lively school spirit.

Co-Captains Jack Thompson and Chuck Weston, "Boozy" Perosa, Brad Kemp and Jack McMinn were the returning lettermen who formed the nucleus of this great team. Two other fine players who saw extensive action were Glenn Nixon and Bob Scamurra. Scamurra who was a squad member last year, was in the starting lineup all this season and turned in several excellent scoring performances.

"Boozy" Perosa, who was the leading scorer for the Knights won a position on the All-High second team. Chuck Weston and Jack Thompson both received All-High honorable mention. Weston was second among our scorers with Scamurra taking the third highest place. Jack Thompson was outstanding as a play-maker and Brad Kemp was unbeatable in controlling rebounds throughout the whole season.

We can look forward to a very successful season in 1950 since the team will include many veteran players.

It is no secret that our rival schools felt great relief when last year's swimming season closed and such stars as Chuck Baldwin, Jim Hines, Bob Gsell, Roy Stuhmiller, and Kenny Weisansal swam for the last times as representatives of Ken High. These fellows were the mainstays of our team and we, as well as our rivals, knew it.

But the things our rivals forgot were the ability of Mr. Warren and the school spirit of all Ken students. At all the swimming meets held away from Ken there were usually louder cheers from the Ken supporters. With any other coach but Mr. Warren, our boys would have been just another mediocre team. His excellent advice and encouragement spirited the team on to victory after victory which finally clinched the Syracuse Cup for the third year. A great deal of credit should go to Manager Harry Mueller who spent long afternoons after school down at the pool with the team.

To the ranks of truly great athletes, of which co-captain Dick Keeney and Tom Schaeffer, Roger "Loafer" Laufer, and Tom Griffin were already members, were added Bill Beagle, Dick Schmitt, Dick Lallmang, John Fritsch, Dan Joyce, and Noel Eberz.

Coach Warren, with his good judgment, has developed a system whereby each and every member of the team is pulling for his teammates. All were given their chance to swim in a meet, thus paving the way in the future for a better team. Experienced swimmers are far better than those who have never swum in a meet.

Our freshmen at Ken are even doing it now! The Freshman 160 yard relay team cracked the city record in the Riverside meet with a time of 1:24.3. The relay was composed of Alan Larter, Bill "Smiley" Sullivan, Freddie Guerra, and anchor man Bob Yates. From this group alone Kensington, in future years, will have winning teams.

Our mermen went through the regular season without any team even coming close to beating them. Every boy on the squad received his chance to swim in some meet and each one proved capable.

After taking the seven meets during the season, we moved into the All-High meet with men qualified in every event. In this meet Bill Beagle took the 200 yard freestyle easily, Roger Laufer won the 100 yard breaststroke with a blazing finish, Tom Schaeffer splashed to victory in the 40 yard freestyle, and Dick Lallmang, Dick Schmitt, and Dan Joyce combined their efforts to take a close decision in the 120 yard Medley relay. Dick Keeney finished a heartbreaking second in the 100 yard freestyle and Dick Lallmang came in third in a close 100 yard backstroke. By securing these final places we amassed a total of 39 points in the meet for a decisive victory over Bennett, our closest competitor which scored 30 points.

Therefore having won every meet in which we participated we took the Syracuse Cup for the third straight year.

The taste of victory has not changed the attitude of Mr. Warren. He continues, as always, to work just as hard and long for victorious teams. To that end we wish him luck!

Kensington Tennis Team wins John A. Clark Memorial Trophy.

TENNIS

This year's Tennis Team has high hopes of equaling the splendid record of last year's undefeated team which won nine matches while suffering no losses. Although three of seven regulars of last year were lost by graduation, Coach Millard feels quite optimistic about the team's chances, because he has uncovered new talent in the persons of Bill Pogorzala, an excellent all round athlete, Gene Domalski, Bruce "Chess Champion" Burr, and two sensational Freshmen Bob Mruk and Dick Wiegert (yes, another of the tennis playing Wiegert brothers).

In the annual fall tournament, Coach Millard had his first look at the prospects for the forty-nine addition to the tennis team. Top honors for the second consecutive year went to Howie Hock, closely followed by Frank Vogel and Ronald Blaskiewicz. Mr. Monan awarded fine prizes to the three winners at an assembly.

Captain Jack McMinn will be trying to make "All High first doubles" again this year. The rest of the team shapes up as follows: Howie Hock, first singles; Frank Vogel, second singles; and Ronald Blaskiewicz, third singles. Captain McMinn will play with Freshman Dick Wiegert at first doubles, Dick Owczarzak and Bill Pogorzala will hold down second doubles position, alternating with Gene Domalski, Bruce Burr, and Bob Mruk. Kenneth Day and Dick Freeman round out our hustling squad.

Our excellent manager "Monty Bednarek" relentlessly chased after misguided tennis balls, stray dogs, eligibility cards, and between time handled the team's publicity reports, put up nets and otherwise relaxed in typical Bednarek style.

TRACK

When this season opened, a large track squad greeted our new coach, Ralph Duquin. Returning lettermen Captain Vince Mascia, Gerard Saltarelli, Ed Cromp, Chris Frauenhofer, Pat Loughran, along with the rest of the squad, are striving for the ninth consecutive Scalp and Blade Championship.

The team, managed by Howie Mandell and Sherwood Littlefield has practiced hard and is the best conditioned team in the city. Competition is expected to be very keen this year and "Duke" is having trouble placing our boys in the right events for them to gain the best advantage for the team.

As the yearbook went to press, interscholastic competition had not begun, but if determination means anything the track cup will be in the trophy case for another year.

BASEBALL

Under the very capable coaching of Mr. Bergstrom, we expect to field a fine baseball team this spring to represent Kensington in the Cornell Cup series.

Fortunately we have several returning lettermen including our hard hitting catcher, Carl Wyles, second baseman, Jack Thompson, shortstop, "Boozy" Perosa, third baseman, Don Klein, rightfielder, Glenn Nixon and pitcher Larry Hartrich.

Although we have only one veteran moundsman, there are several promising newcomers such as Spence Bickel, Jim Jones, Ed Rath and Don Coe, all of whom are ready for pitching duty.

First base will be covered by Bill Richmond with Jerry Theisen and Paul Morgan in reserve. Ed Faber and John Corbelli will occupy left and right fields respectively with Tom Willard also ready for outfield service. Catchers Joe Hartrich and Don Szen along with infielder Joe Bruekman, all Sophomores, will also be ready to play whenever needed.

With this veteran studded team, the Green Knights have a bright outlook on the coming season and hope to bring back several victories to Kensington.

Williams Cup

The 1949 Williams Cup emblematic of all around sports supremacy in Buffalo, should reside in Kensington's trophy case again this year. Winning a Williams Cup is nothing new for Kensington, but winning one in an odd year is, since the Knights have captured the cup only in even years, 1942, '44, '46, and '48. As we go to press, Kensington leads all others in the Williams Cup standings with 37½ points, while Bennett is second with 29½. However, Mr. Monan wants not only to capture the Williams Cup but also to break the record of 51½ points set by Kensington last year. Since there are still three sports to be heard from, baseball, track, and tennis, we stand an excellent chance of adding this mark to our ever-increasing pile of broken records. The winning of the Williams Cup will provide a just and fitting conclusion for the most successful year of athletics in Kensington's glorious history.

BOWLING CLUB

Early in October the Bowling Club was formed. Called by Mr. Meegan, the meeting was attended by forty-five boys. Out of this number, eight teams were formed. A handicap basis was used to make the bowling fair for all.

There were many outstanding bowlers in this league. Without Mr. Meegan, the freshman "Hopefuls" would have been lost. His average throughout the campaign was 180. Ron Voltmann and Don Bettinger were high in average with 172 and 171 respectively. The "Rolling Five," after acquiring the services of Jim Brady, the "sensational senior," went to the top. He has rolled several 200 games and is very consistent. Mr. Meegan believes he has a brilliant future in bowling.

The "Spark Plugs," who have a mighty hold on third place, suffered the loss of Bill Benkler, a 170 average man. With the interest that has been shown so far, at least 12 teams are anticipated for the 1949-1950 season. If possible a series of match games will be arranged with other schools. For these games, a representative team will be picked from the top ten bowlers. In the only match game of this year, Kensington's star team, composed of Jim Brady, Miles Hall, Ron Voltmann, Al Burkhardt, Ron Bettinger, and Jim Hurley, defeated Canisius High School 2625 to 2397.

Mr. Meegan is confident that next year's league will be just as successful as this year's has been.

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

A ball, a net, and, of course, a referee was all the girls needed to make the volleyball season a huge success. Yes, again this year 336 Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors flocked to the gym to work off a bit of the "Knightly" energy. Each Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon under the capable supervision of Mrs. Samul and Miss Messore, the upperclassmen perfected their game.

A new plan for the daily practice periods was set up this year, whereby the first players ready in teams of twelve were the first to play. Naturally this meant a grand rush directly after second roll call for; "First come first serve." This season came to a close on October 2, 1948 with the seniors on top. The hard-playing Sophomores overtook the Juniors for the most spectacular upset of the season.

The Freshman girls interested in volleyball played in the Freshman league which met every Thursday after school during the volleyball season.

This year 96 girls participated in this league. They met for ten periods playing two games at every meeting. After the seventh week, two varsity teams were chosen. These teams played three sets of games with Ruth Lappin's team winning the league. Some of the most outstanding players in the Freshman league were Dorothy Kahle, Carol Peacock, Lois Schoenfeld, and Ruth Lappin.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

Shouts and screams encouraging another home run could be heard echoing from the walls of the Kensington gym where approximately 250 girls gathered for indoor baseball on Tuesday at 2:30.

With their usual display of spirit and enthusiasm, these young, feminine ballplayers showed much interest and exceedingly good talent for this sport.

Under the capable supervision of Miss Redinbaugh, the girls worked hard to improve their batting, pitching, and catching. This being Miss Redinbaugh's first year at Kensington, we wish to thank her and congratulate her on the marvelous job she did in handling baseball.

Although the final teams had not been chosen at the time The Compass went to press, such outstanding players as Dorothea Panke, Joan Kummer, Dorothy Bonnas, Joan Adams, Bette Parkhurst, Alice Penny and Shirley Christen will in all probability comprise one of the winning teams for 1949.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

1949 produced one of the largest turnouts for basketball. The notice announcing the beginning of this popular sport brought 200 enthusiastic girls to the gym. Because of this large crowd, it was necessary to make a division in practice nights. Senior girls played Wednesdays, the Juniors and Sophomores proved their ability on Thursdays, and the Freshmen learned the part of passing, pivoting, and the fundamentals of basketball on Tuesdays.

Each group had eight practice sessions under the capable supervision of Miss Gallagher and Miss Messore. During this period the girls had the opportunity of exhibiting their skill and the varsity teams, consisting of the ten best girls of each class, were chosen by secret ballot.

The result of the first set of the play off games found the outstanding Freshman team, under the capable leadership of Miss Messore, victorious over the Sophomores and the Senior team, coached by Miss Gallagher, holding the winning side of the score with the Juniors. Then came the final game, the battling Freshmen vs. the mighty Seniors. The end of this exciting contest found the Seniors victorious—the Champs!

Outstanding on these teams were:

Seniors—Jean Schwartz, Dorthea Panke, Rosetta O'Brien.

Juniors—Audrey Golnick, Nina Pierce, Grace Furbo.

Sophomores—Pat O'Rourke, Peggy Volk, Dolores Furbo.

Freshmen—Janice Neffke, Theresa Del Col, Joan Haberer.

These games proved to be a source of great enjoyment to all participating, gave the girls a greater knowledge of the game, and taught them good sportsmanship.

GIRLS' BOWLING

Every Wednesday and Thursday during the bowling season, Ken High girls, hoping for high scores, invaded the Kensington and Schiller Park Alleys. At first, unfortunately, the balls lost their sense of direction and wandered into the gutter but with the helpful advice of Miss Messore and Mrs. Samul, the number of strikes and spares increased and most of the girls forgot what gutter balls were. At the end of the bowling season, each girl had improved her skill, satisfied her recreational needs, and advanced one step closer to the Gold K award.

Bowling at the Kensington Alleys, Grace Furbo with the score of 170, achieved the title of "highest single bowler". Other high scorers were:

Kensington Alleys: Nancy Knochenhauer, 148; Mary Lou Messick, 146; Olive Benson, 143; Grace Revere, 134; Donna Reinig, 129.

At the Schiller Park Alleys the five highest scorers were: Nancy Hoefler, 164; Marilyn Germann, 144; Arlene Thrun, 140; Natalie Ferringer, 135; Pat McKenzie, 135.

Nancy Hoefler was Bowling Champion of the season. Her average for 11 games was 115. Her highest score was 164. Grace Furbo took second place bowling at the Kensington Alleys. Her average for 13 games was 114. Bowling was one of the most popular sports in which the girls participated.

GOLD K AWARD

After four years of participation in after school sports, we, the Gold K Girls of 1949, proudly receive our tiny pins and remember the hours we spent in earning our 500 points. We all recall how we dashed to the gym during the volleyball season to be one of the first ones to play only to wonder how all of those girls could have gotten there before us. Then there were the times when we dragged ourselves to school early enough to get in some tennis practice before classes.

We can laugh now at our first painful attempts at riding, our dashes up Bailey Avenue to get an alley, and our aching muscles (?) the inevitable aftermath. The shouts of "sign me up" and "side out" still ring in our ears, along with beating sticks and whistles. We shall never forget the crowded conditions around the hair dryers and in all the dressing rooms.

Above all, we shall miss our gay times at Kensington with Miss Messore, Miss Gallagher, Miss Felser, Miss Strasser, Miss Cole, Mrs. Aydelotte, Mrs. Samul, Miss McIlhenny, Miss Redinbaugh, and Mrs. Fink. It was the patient coaching of these teachers, during the past four years, that helped us to achieve our goal.

VACATION DREAMLAND

Kensington's aquacade, "Vacation Dreamland," invoked wonderment, fantasy, and imagination through the colorful scenery and costumes, for the various journeys narrated by Diane Yaw.

As the blue bubbles slid over the colored planks and the girls achieved perfect precision in swimming, the crowd was unconsciously being taken to Coral Gables where suntanned beauties were riding the tide on their surfboards with the palms, white sands, and the vivid blue sky forming a picturesque background.

An eight-girl act resembled the schools of fish that gracefully glimmer and glide through the deep blue Atlantic as they transported the awe-stricken audience to another vacation paradise, the Bermuda Islands. The spectators were then surrounded with darkness peppered only by small flickering rays of light. Again through the masterful trickery of the Ken Mermaids the audience was carried to a far-off land, Alaska, where darkness prevails a certain period each year and stars are the only source of light.

Even Hopkinsville, Kentucky received recognition as the girls wove in and out to corn cob music which gave the setting for a "good ole time" square dance. The 1949 water show was successful because of the enthusiastic, hard-working cast and the director, Miss Marie Felser.

In Water: C. Oberlander, S. Mamott, R. Schulz.

On Edge: N. Barrett, S. Harrington.

Kneeling: J. Simeister, M. Stiegler, L. Miller, C. Feider.

Standing: N. Bowers, C. Harris, O. Torrisi.

Right: D. Panke, B. Parkhurst, R. Dormann, A. Steinkirchner, Miss Felser, S. Mamott, M. Butler, K. Musselil.

SWIMMING AND LIFE SAVING

As "Take your mark, get set, go," echoed throughout the Kensington High School "pool room," Miss Marie Felser ushered in another season of girls' team swimming. Without her understanding advice, many of the girls would not have developed their swimming techniques to such a high degree of perfection.

So much enthusiasm and ability was displayed this year that enough girls qualified to organize six teams which were captained by Betty Hennig, Rhea Campbell, Janet Fahning, Barbara Wilde, Doris La Rosa, Dolores Furbo. Rhea's team was undefeated throughout the eight practice periods. The Ken "fish" had acquired more speed and confidence by now and felt themselves ready for the big moment. It was quite a problem for Miss Felser to choose two major teams, as so many girls showed remarkable racing ability. The Green team, captained by Janet Fahning, and the Gold team, by Betty Hennig, were so evenly matched that the final score was 47-47.

A host of girls, thirty-nine in all, decided to undergo the vigors of the American Red Cross Life Saving Tests. During these trials, all the long hours of practicing paid dividends as eleven students passed the Senior American Red Cross Life Saving tests and twenty-eight, the Junior tests.

Seated Front: G. Furbo, S. Yeager.

First Row: J. Boydo, J. Fahning, R. Herrmann, B. Hennig, B. Wilde, M. Butler, J. Commerford.

Second Row: E. Dahlke, J. Priester, T. Gasboda, B. Mesler, P. Rupp.

These girls have proven that swimming is just as important a part of the feminine sports program as it is of the masculine schedule.

First Row: M. Shea, C. Feider, N. Barrett, J. Fabning, Captain, B. Hennig, Captain, R. Blersch, J. Stenman.

Second Row: D. Seese, D. Furbo, M. McMahon, G. Furbo, K. Smithmeyer, A. McGarva, B. Wilde, R. Campbell, C. Oberlander, O. Torrisi.

Third Row: M. Propster, J. Simeister, D. Rutka, R. Schulz, Miss Felser, C. Harris, M. Brauch, D. Moest.

Fourth Row: D. LaRosa, K. Kaufhold, D. Panke, A. Lawrie, P. Spangenberg, R. Herrmann, S. Mamott, D. Fisher.

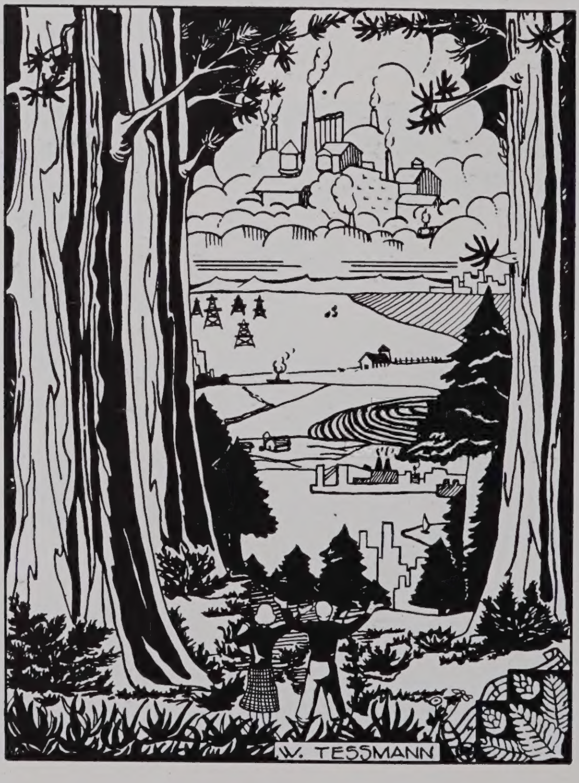
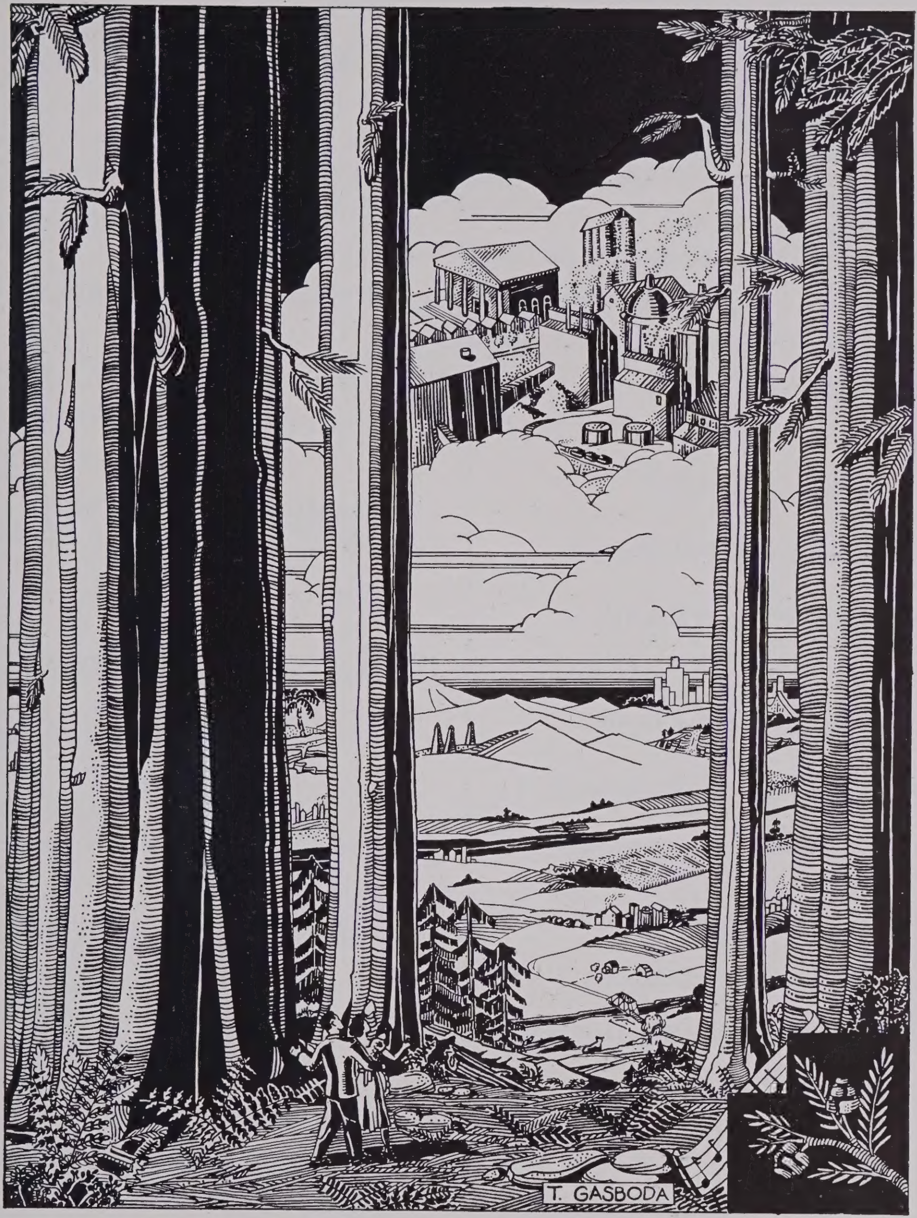
The giant redwood trees that stand like columns to support the sky symbolize the mighty power and vastness of American industries. The tremendous energy of America is shown in the massive industrial centers where the sharp pounding of steel on steel beats out the rhythm of production, where huge smokestacks reach, like redwoods, to the sky.

Millions of dollars are spent annually to bring before the eyes of her people products of the ingenuity, natural resources, and technical skills of Marvelous America. In a spirit of competition and of progress, industry is perpetually seeking new methods to improve its products. Advertising, the lifeline of American commerce, keeps before the public the steady growth of our industries.





ADVERTISING: The Redwoods suggest strength and power. They are the symbol of continuous growth through the ages. Our family's vision encompasses steel mills, factories, power, and trade. We know that if we share the benefits of increased productivity, all America can enjoy better working conditions, larger incomes, more vacations, better housing, improved schools, and greater security. American advertising promotes a universal interest in improved standards of living for everyone.

and two tenths seconds. This year, as a Sophomore, he won his major letter on the team, by swimming in every meet of the season. In the hundred yard breast-stroke event, Dick kept pushing in close behind Tom Griffin, and when Tom didn't swim in the Tech meet, Dick came in first to prove he could do it. Even after Griffin graduates, Dick will keep Ken on top by leaving opponents behind and winning races. As fast as he is now, you can expect Dick to improve in the coming years until no one can catch him.

Besides swimming in the hundred yard breast-stroke event, he also often swam the breast-stroke leg on the medley relay team with Lallmang and Joyce. Dick was an important part of this fast, formidable trio. It is right to consider him as very important because the breast-stroke is the most difficult stroke in swimming. It takes a strong, well-trained man to win these events. Dick will be a valuable part of our swimming teams at Kensington in the future.

The Yearlings

Joan Dey was a member of the Cartoon Club. Lorraine Latz, Marilyn Brauch and Janet Ingraham took part in Studio Club activities. These girls were also very helpful in decorating 406 with gay Christmas decorations.

Phyllis Gay was Treasurer of the Home Economics Club and Jean McInnis enjoyed playing with Chess Club members.

On the Projection Staff from 406 were Joan Blakelock and Joyce Kazmierczak, Phyllis Gay and Charlotte Cash. Phyllis and Charlotte often headed the honor roll along with Lucille Hochmuth.

At the Hallowe'en Party, 406 was well represented in both the entertainers and prize winners. Prize winners were Charlotte Cash, Joan Britt, and Pat Noble. Joan Day entertained with a military soft shoe dance while Charlotte Cash sang a very enjoyable solo.

"Let's Go, We Can Do It!" was our slogan this year, as it will be for our next three years at Kensington. The girls will always remember the happy hours spent in 406 and the guiding hand of Miss Heacock who so patiently saw us through our many joys and problems.

An Open Letter to the Ambitious American Student:

for who would be next year's Juniors if we hadn't?

When we returned in September, 1947, we were all deeply saddened by the unexpected death of Mr. Thomas J. McDonnell. However, within a short time, we realized his successor, Mr. Charles J. Monan, was an equally capable leader.

"Let's Go, We Can Do It" was adopted as our official motto during football season. Our Latin teachers really co-operated when they demanded "Eamus id facere possumus" on all homework papers. In October, members of the first Harvard Cup team were Chris Frauenhofer, Ed Cromp, Jack Thompson, and Dave Warsocki. We were all proud to see Carl Wyles as the starting fullback. But "wha hoppened?" Did he shed blood on the gridiron for old Alma Mater? No, he sprained his ankle in scrimmage!

Spurred by Mr. Monan's determination, the cross country team with Vince Mascia and Gerard Saltarelli in the lead flashed across the finish line to capture the coveted trophy.

Who will ever forget the thrill of the Marching Band as they proudly paraded down the aisle sporting their new green and gold uniforms? Not only was our band in gala attire but so were our flower-bedecked athletes.

Before we knew it, we heard the strains of the "Hallelujah Chorus" and "Gloria" being hummed everywhere. Our angels continued to fall on schedule. Could it be that the heavenly creatures expected to be caught by Dashing Mr. Demerly and Giant Mr. Gianturco?

Before we had time to catch our breath or blow the dust from our books, our bitterest foe had stealthily "snuck" up on us! With the aid of Mr. Monan and his pet phrase ever in mind, we even conquered January exams.

After replacing the "Closed at Night" sign on our books, we commenced to cheer "Splash Along" Schaeffer, "Little Minnow" Keeney, Dick Gibson, Bill Beagle, Conrad Lauer, and John Fritsch. Not only did these boys win for us the Syracuse Cup but they also put Kensington on the map by breaking numerous records.

Marlene Jackson and Catherine McIntosh were battle scarred veterans of many grueling debates while Jack Kasman, Eleanor Hughes, Nancy Stubbe, Jack Harding, and Dick Herrmann showed great promise.

Who cares if we won only three games in basketball? We had many potential stars on the team, namely: Jack McMinn, Glenn Nixon, and Dick Geiger. While our basketball team was soaring to unlimited heights, Diana Lavetti, Dot Panke, Rosetta O'Brien, Shirley Harrison, and Wilma Tessmann were showing equally great skill in girls athletics.

Suren' begorra, if it wasn't Mrs. Murphy's Boarding House! And there were Brad Syrcher, Marge Mueller, Dick Klose, and Catherine McIntosh with the blarney on their tongues and a song up their sleeves.

After many campaign speeches and the promise of free bubble gum, we elected Jack Thompson, President; Augusta Schultz, Vice-President; Shirley Harrison, Secretary; Jack McMinn, Treasurer; and Joan Toland and Jack Kasman, as Marshals who gazed proudly down upon us from the stage on Junior Day. Mirta Rigo, Ruth Kimmler, and Walter Wieszczecinski entertained us before the class went out to plant the traditional ivy.

That night, for the first time in the history of the school, the Juniors held their prom under starry skies. Who could help but dance to the strains of Al Watts' orchestra! It was then that the impossible occurred, for the gym walls stood unsupported by masculine shoulders! When the last bar of music had floated away into silence, we sadly left the beautifully decorated gym to go our separate ways.

Having previously met January exams as Juniors, we weren't particularly happy about meeting his sister June. But along she came. As we collapsed on the floor in utter relief at having passed, Carol Gallisdorfer romped away with her second Attainment Medal in one hand and a 99.2 report card in the other.

School bells clanged on our miserable ears as we sadly bade adieu to our summer frolics and were determined to help Mr. Monan achieve his goal of breaking the Civic Stadium attendance record of 43,167 established by the Buffalo Bills and Cleveland Browns.

Night Football Game

At Kensington, a spirited sales competition was inaugurated with special prizes for students bringing in the highest amount of money in ticket sales. Rhea Campbell, whose total was $213, won a fur coat donated by James Robinson, Furriers, for her super salesmanship. Highest among the boys was Florian Sobczak who turned in $112 and won a top coat donated by Posmantur's. Other winners were Dennis Mullane, Eleanor Barbuto, Marjorie Creola, Harry Mueller, Judy Warsocki, and Marion Goetz. When the final figures had been compiled, Kensington led all the other schools in the ticket competition with a total of $10,758. All schools shared in the proceeds to aid their athletic funds.

THE PROGRAM: Although the kick-off was scheduled for 8:50, the stadium gates opened at 6:20, to admit a waiting crowd of 5,000. By 7:15, there were more than 30,000 in the stands and from then on they never stopped coming. By the time the program began, the cheers, excitement, and enthusiasm of the crowd had reached a crescendo pitch.

At a drum roll and gunshot signal, a circus performance staged by all the high schools got under way. Youthful performers dressed in all sorts of costumes, put on their specialty acts on wooden stages spaced at intervals around the stadium track. There were tumblers, acrobats, dancing Scottish lassies, cavorting clowns, accordion players, and a wailing German band. Dressed in imitation armor, Doreen Sullivan and Shirley Christen pranced around on horseback to symbolize our Ken Knight's invincible spirit. After that came the parade of floats from the different high schools, then the introduction of players by Ralph Hubbell. After team introductions, the Kensington and Bennett bands, with baton-twirling majorettes, color guards and drum majors paraded onto the field escorting the two teams. Everyone stood at attention while Miss Gertrude Lutzi, accompanied by the bands, sang the Star Spangled Banner.

Between the halves, the Kensington and Bennett bands played in marching formation. Then followed the presentation of trophies. The Junior Chamber of Commerce trophy for the best circus act was won by Girls Vocational high school for their beautiful float. Mr. Michael Montesano, Chairman of the Board of Education, accepted for the schools, from Mr. Dan Markel, the Marba Trophy which was later presented to the winning team.

Summing up the impression made by the spectacular success of the Night Game, we quote Bob Stedler's comment from the Buffalo News:

"The task, which the principals comprising the Athletic Committee assumed in staging the affair, was truly a gigantic one as was proven in the unprecedented turnout. That huge gathering was the result of teamwork reflecting a fine co-operative spirit of school officials, teachers and the student body. Without it the event could not have been the success it was, exceeding as it did, the expectations of even the most optimistic on the committee . . . Everyone who in any way contributed to its success can feel proud of the part played in this epoch-making demonstration by the Physical Education branch of Buffalo's excellent system of education. If there is any city in the country where Thursday night's well conceived and faultlessly conducted super scholastic affair ever was matched, or surpassed, we never have heard of it."

The Game

from 20 yards out. Frauenhofer, playing a terrific game, scored our final touchdown late in the game. Carl Wyles was a standout player throughout the game and turned in an excellent performance both on offense and defense. The entire Ken line did yeoman work throughout the game and was responsible for the Bennett backs being stopped in their tracks time after time. It was a thrill-packed game from start to finish and Ken fans rocked the stadium with their cheers as they watched Bob Wilde pierce the cool, crisp air with deadly passes, as Co-Captain Leo Pacanowski led our stalwart fighters Jim Turner, John Beckley, Jack Mathien, Fran Kareken, Glenn Nixon and Ed Cromp in a massacre of the Bennett Tigers with the final, overwhelming score of 26-8.

might also enjoy it. Mr. Monan welcomed the audience at each of the three performances, after which Jack McMinn, Master of Ceremonies, introduced the various acts.

The band made a dramatic entrance to the pulsating strains of "MacNamara's Band." Following were the Kerry dancers dressed in their pretty Irish colleen costumes. The A Cappella Choir, also wearing a bit o' the green, sang "The Rose of Tralee", "Galway Bay" and other popular Irish melodies. Guest of honor was Mr. John Danahy who sang several solos including "Danny Boy" and "Macushla" and joined the Choir in several other numbers.

Say, do you remember Dick Wilcox? Sure you do. Why the day wouldn't be complete without his traditional and ever-loved "Same Old Shillelagh" accompanied by a medley of Irish songs. Following Dick came Shirley Brown with her lovely soprano interpretation of "I'll Take You Home Again Kathleen."

"Now what sort of a St. Patrick's Day would it be without the Irish Jig or the Kerry Dance!" To be sure Ken's own colleens gave their spirited versions of these popular Irish folk dances.

Last, but not least, were our tapsters, "The Three Shamrocks", "Corky" Wheelock, Joan Stenman, and Margaret Paradise.

The singing of the Alma Mater closed the program and the many who so thoroughly enjoyed it were anticipating the next St. Patrick's Day.

on a fine, long end run. Shortly after, Ed Cromp, the backfield fleetster, took a handoff from quarterback Bob Wilde and on an off tackle slant went all the way for the touchdown. The final score of the game came when Carl Wyles bucked over from the 5 yard marker and as the ball was knocked from his arms, Jack Mathien, our ever alert guard, pounced on the ball in the end zone for the touchdown.

Seneca was our next opponent and the first half of this game was a deadlock finding neither team able to score. However, early in the second half the game broke wide open as Ed Cromp swept end for our first score, Frauenhofer drove for our second and then Cromp intercepted a Seneca pass and romped over the goal. At this point substitutes entered the game and proved their ability as Chuck Weston flipped a touchdown pass, first to Jerry Theisen and then to Ronnie Turner to complete the scoring and give us a 36-0 victory.

The Knights captured their fifth straight game with an easy 26-0 victory over Tech. A 19-6 victory over McKinley gave us an undefeated season and qualified Ken to meet Riverside for the Harvard Cup.

On the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day the boys in Green and Gold took the field to battle Riverside for the championship and two hours later they marched off with a 28-0 victory and the Harvard Cup. Again it was Frauenhofer who was Ken's offensive powerhouse as he scored two touchdowns. Chuck Weston looped a pass to Jack Thompson in the end zone and late in the game Weston himself scored on a quarterback sneak. The Knight line played brilliantly and the Frontier backfield was unable to make any sizeable gains.

Probably the biggest factor in the success of our backfield all season long was the strength of the great Ken line composed of veteran lettermen Jim Turner, John Beckley, Jack Mathien, Leo Pacanowski, Fran Karekan, Jack Thompson and a newcomer who played excellent ball all season, Glenn Nixon. Carl Wyles was one of the best fullbacks in the city and his fine defensive line-backing also was outstanding throughout the season. Ed Cromp compiled the best record for average yards gained per carry of all the backs in the city. Bob Wilde and Chris Frauenhofer were excelled by none in all around ability at their respective positions and therefore they, along with Leo Pacanowski and Jack Thompson received All-High honors.

Coach Bergstrom, along with next year's co-captains, Jack Thompson and Carl Wyles are looking forward to a fine season since several lettermen will be returning along with many capable boys who were on the squad this past season. All these will combine their efforts to aid in the drive for the third consecutive championship which will give Kensington permanent possession of the Harvard Cup.

An Open Letter to the Ambitious American Student:

re-entered the portals of learning as omnipotent Seniors. Quickly we unpacked our exuberant school spirit from summer storage. With schmoos as our ever-present companions, we cheered our gridiron team through rain, hail, sleet,—and sunshine.

The crowning glory of the season was the gigantic Bennett-Ken night game with 50,000 people in attendance. It was a game worth freezing for, with entertainment and thrills galore! However, we'll never forgive Dick Keeney or Tom Schaeffer for fraternizing with the Bennett cheerleaders. Consoling the losers, hmmmm?

As a reward for selling the most football tickets for this game, Rhea Campbell received a luscious fur coat. Immediately, the other Senior girls clamored to find the secret to Rhea's sales technique. In the not too distant future, the opening of Rhea's charm school will be announced.

After an undefeated season, the gallant Knights brought the Harvard Cup home for another year. Jack Thompson and Chris Frauenhofer were chosen members of the All-High team.

With a burst of enthusiasm, Mr. Duquin, the miracle man with bars and bells, stepped right into Monty's shoes. Under his coaching, Howie Mandell, Bill Ratzel, and the rest of that hard-working team won the Columbia Cup.

At the conclusion of a hectic Thanksgiving holiday, we began practicing for our last Christmas pageant in which Shirley Brown, Kenneth Day, Jacqueline Dilger, and Marge Creola had major parts. The day of the performances arrived. Anxious students sat on the edges of their seats, their eyes scanning the stage. Tragic drama? Suspenseful mystery? Don't be silly! Everyone was waiting for the angels to begin their spontaneous and unrehearsed descents. Snow flurries and novel lighting effects, products of Jimmy Bravar's genius, gave added beauty to the performance. As usual, Mr. Pinkow went round whispering, "Oh where, oh where has my little (?) voice gone?" We live in eternal fear that some Christmas he won't recover it.

With the stark spectre of January exams staring us in the eyes, we hastily made up back assignments, then managed to live through that grueling week to the opening of the basketball season. Everyone was pleasantly surprised at the speed and dexterity of "Boozie" Perosa, Jack Thompson, "Down-the-Middle" Charlie Weston, and Brad Kemp, who romped through the season to tie Ken for second place in the Yale Cup Series. The effect created by Mert Wyckoff's manly grace and stage presence as a cheerleader was utterly destroyed by the patter of Norm Wittholz's little feet tripping across the stage. "Nuts," sighed Mert, "everyone wants to get into the act."

At our St. Patty's Day assembly, Jack McMinn presided over the celebration dressed in a suit rented from Digby O'Dell, himself. Members of the band resisted all bribes. They wouldn't give up their ringside seats and miss a chance to get a good look at the beauteous gams of the dancing Irish colleens!!

Beware of those members of the Chemistry Club! The mad chemists, John Barone and Dick Herrmann, proudly displayed the results of their genius, brandy. My, how their popularity increased! The master minds, Richard Moss and Jack Pearl, fiendishly concocted potent explosive mixtures. The fact that one of their works of art blew up in Dick Rogalski's hands didn't phase them in the least.

Taking a "cue" from our 1948 swimming champions, our team splashed around the "poolroom" with enough speed and vigor to win the Syracuse Cup. We were proud of Tom Schaeffer's and Dick Keeney's admirable performances.

A picture of forbearance and patience was Lois Van Buskirk, who was pushed, jostled, and practically smothered to death each morning when eager students raced into 109 to make their yearbook picture appointments.

Mr. Pinkow's Penthouse became a bustle of activity when the rehearsals for our Spring operetta, "Cherry Blossom," began. Eleanor Hughes, as the sweet heroine, was supported by Marge Mueller, Shirley Brown, Dick Klose, Bill Sugnet, Brad Syrcher, Dave Gustin, and Carl Makey.

Among the gals of '49 who survived the rigors of four years of after school athletics, no fewer than eighty received Gold K's as rewards. These were well-earned by hard effort, good sportsmanship, and aching limbs.

After electing Jack Thompson, President; Carol Gallisdorfer, Vice-President; Jack Kasman, Treasurer; Rhea Campbell, Secretary; Augusta Schultz and Carl Wyles, Marshals, we complimented ourselves on another job well done.

Just as the happy years at Kensington have come to an end, so must this letter. With salty tears running down our faces, we bid farewell and ask you to count these events as our contributions to Marvelous America.

Nancy Stubbe   Richard Moss

Since we know "We'll Never Be The Same" we endow:

Joyce Kellerman and Dick Schultz's morning stroll through the corridors to Chickie Cawley and Meatball Loughran.

Mert Wyckoff's devastating dimples to tricky Vicky Rigo.

Tom Schaeffer's wealth, fame and fortune to money-lender "Diamond Jim" Salvatore.

Willie Tessman's custody of the community wardrobe of the senior girls to the jolly juniors.

Chuck Weston's custom built, collect at the door, blue limousine to replace Mr. Monan's outdated, faded blue Packard.

A collection of suit coats to Mr. Gianturco which he can "spot" with sulfuric acid.

Marge Creola's knitting needles to Miss Scanlon.

Jack Kasman's popular personality-plus to enthusiastic Eddie Ryan.

Carl Wyles' complete possessions, treasures, trophies, and sweaters to merry Marilyn Ball.

Bob (Longfellow) Frost's poetic prowess to Ronnie (Whittier) Schifferle.

Romeo Yogi Sverdrup's smooth way with women to "Don Juan" Jimmie Jones.

As we finally depart "Singing in The Rain" we dispense with:

Joan Stevenson's storm rubbers to be stored in the "cage" for use by the girls of the class of '50 on rainy days.

Salty Saltarelli's copies of Boy Dates Girl to Bob McClure for reference after being bitten by the "love bug" during his senior year.

Betty Hennig's and Janet Fahning's co-captaincy of the girls' swimming team to Danny Joyce and Tom Griffin.

Janet Ziegler's weekend "Video parties" to Pat Story for enjoyable instruction by visual aids.

Seated: Marjorie Creola, Gerald Theisen
Standing: Gerard Saltarelli, Rhea Campbell

Jerry Theisen's interest in underclass "Beckies" to Bob Stenman.

Jack Thompson's ability to be elected "by the people" to the Gallup pollsters.

Danny Colasanti's wardrobe and a year's subscription to Esquire to Roger Laufer.

Boozy Perosa's bold manner with the gals and the microphone to Bob Scamurra.

Rhea Campbell's fur coat to the girls who will inhabit the windy first floor corridor.

Sam Borzillieri's three-year method of one-year courses to Ronnie Blaszkiewicz.

Patty Clifford's easy blushes to Mario Puricelli.

Ann McGarva's supply of dirty towels to the janitors for disposal in the incinerator.

With "Stardust" in our eyes and dressed in our best "Buttons & Bows" and since we the Class of '49 are "So Tired," and are leaving you "Forever and Ever," we sign, seal and deliver this our last will and testament on this twenty-seventh day of May, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-nine.

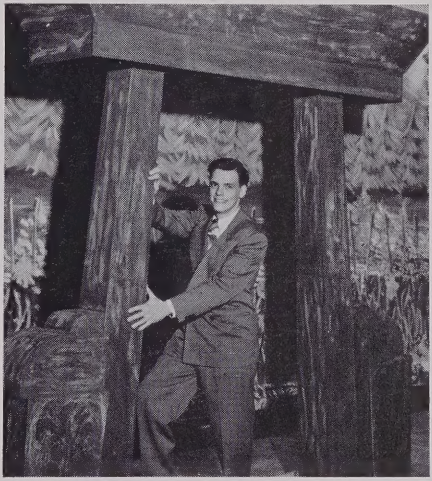
girls and twenty-nine American boys and girls joined in some of the excellent song hits of the operetta.

The play revolves about an American girl born in Japan and brought up as a Japanese maiden by an innkeeper, Kokomo. When an American touring party visits Kokomo's tea garden, one of the Americans, Jack Smith, falls in love with her. Kokomo, who has already planned on her marrying Togo, a rich politician, is greatly displeased and tries, but in vain, to separate the two lovers.

One of the many highlights of the operetta was the dance and the duet by Eleanor Hughes and Carleton Norton, stars of the show, as they gracefully glided over the stage, which was adorned with cherry blossoms and Japanese lanterns, blending their beautiful voices. Other hit songs which the audience went away humming were: "Kokomo's Lament," "Down Lover's Lane," and "The Game of Love."



James Bravar, stage director, checks the Japanese arch for the Cherryblossom set.

Members of the "Miss Cherryblossom" cast on stage for the finale of Act I.

BINDING

"COORDINATION" . . . a word that can mean a lot to you, even more than it does to us. It embodies a principle upon which our success depends. It means the proper economy of money, materials, and time, but always bearing in mind the kind of a yearbook you wish to have produced and of which you will be proud. BJH learned to appreciate that principle a long time ago. It is for this reason that we have consistently advocated the coordination of all factors of yearbook production. We are indeed glad to have been selected to produce this year's book.
